Byers Death Spurs Radium Probe

Three Death Stories.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

WASHINGTON, April 1. HERE, THE heart of the nation is beating as well as can be expected. It is raining, a drizzling slow all-day rain that reminds you of a business depression.

Taxicab drivers welcome the rain, which helps business. Their charge has been cut down to fifty cents a ride, "almost anywhere in Washington," says the colored driver, adding that unemployment has doubled the number of taxi drivers because "anybody can drive a taxi." Then he laughs heartily. A gloomy man would tell you the opposite thing, with a sour look reminding you of Lenin and Karl Marx rolled into one.

PRESIDENT HOOVER, working late, as usual, when the writer called at the White House Thursday afternoon, was about to prepare a statement that will be interesting to the automobile industry.

The President believes that buying a new automobile is an excellent way to help employment, one of the greatest industries, and, at the same time, contribute to general cheerfulness. He will say that all the new Motor Car models are ready and on view, inviting purchase of your 1932 car.

"TO POSSESS, drive and exhibit a new automobile, glittering in the glory of chromium plating, is to prove that you are not hoarding your money, and that you are contributing practically to the problem of employment, and the happiness of your family.

THE HOUSE hopes to get a tax bill ready for passage today. It will include a tax on stock sales of one-quarter of 1 per cent. Uncle Sam is in Wall Street with a vengeance, taking from the market twice what the brokers get.

If all goes well, representatives expect to raise $1,000,000,000 with this bill. There are some "ifs" and several "buts" in the program.

MR. ALVIN McCAULEY, head of the Packard Company, is here to say that the proposed tax on automobiles will wreck the industry.

Mr. Common Sense is here to tell the "sock the rich" brigade that the tax that would take fifty three-quarters of really Big incomes will not yield the Government golden milk. The big incomes will not materialize.

Stanley Baldwin, Britain's BEST NEWS in town is the 5-pasado with ocean flying. Private enterprise and capital promise to build a line of superships, bigger than the Akron, to carry passengers and mail across the Atlantic and Pacific.

Nothing is asked of the government but a chance to carry the mails such as other craft enjoy. That the bill introduced by Congressman Crosser, of Ohio, will pass, there is no doubt.

SPEED IS everything in modern commerce. Germany already has a huge Zeppelin running from Berlin to Buenos Aires in four days, as against 16 days by surface ship.

The American dirigibles will cross the Atlantic in two-and-a-half days, making the round trip once a week with time for overhauling.

THE ESTABLISHMENT of this line, across both oceans, will be invaluable in sending samples, salesmen and mail. The pity is that it will take three years to get the first giant ship ready.

Germany is already building a ship bigger than the Akron, but America's monopoly of helium gas will give us also a monopoly of safe dirigible travel, if we care to have it. More about this important news later.

IT IS A pleasure to state positively, that general business and financial news is better. Under the heading of "small blessings thankfully received" comes the news that in March bank closings fell to a low ebb and were more than made up for by the opening of banks bigger than those that closed.

On the other hand, no Canadian bank has closed. In this country you wonder whether Canada has a better bank plan or better bankers than we have.

EUGENE MEYER, JR., head of the Federal Reserve, whose specialty is giving a business-like imitation of the sphinx, radiates a little sunshine, although he would not admit it.

It is clear that he thinks we are climbing over the brow of the hill. He was at work in the Reconstruction Corporation yesterday, Gen. Dawes beside him, too busy to produce his historical pipe.

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON was working in committee with Senator Wagner on the latter's unemployment bill, and Miss Perkins, New York Labor Commissioner, appointed by Gov. Smith, retained by Gov. Roosevelt, was proving that women have clear minds, and can make facts plain.

Senator Copeland, of New York, and other wise ones were there. Miss Katherine Davis, with one possible exception the most brilliant young woman matter in the country, was taking notes on human nature.

Seated in an open cockpit, he might have saved himself by parachute but preferred to stick to his ship and the mail entrusted to his ship and the mail entrusted to him. A few lines and the world hears no more of him.

But if war should come, ne

U. S. TO PUSH INQUIRY ON 'CURES'

Trade Commission Chairman Hopes for Legislation Giving Rule Over Remedies

Denies Radium Water Killed Byers

Dr. C. C. Moyar, of Pittsburgh, today denounced as "an absolute lie" the assertion that 100 patients in Pittsburgh are suffering from radium poisoning. Dr. Moyar said:

"It was not radium active water that killed E. M. Byers. I have taken more of this water than any patient ever took."

WASHINGTON, April 1.—(AP.)—The Federal Trade Commission decided today to press its investigation of radium "cures" as a result of the death of Eben MacBurney Byers, Pittsburgh manufacturer.

Chairman Humphrey said after a meeting of the Commission, that it would expedite the inquiry started by Robert H. Winn, commission attorney, and prepare for further public hearings.

COMPLAINTS STUDIED

The Commission has before it a number of complaints against certain radium treatments and has been conducting an inquiry into them for several months. Winn has been ordered several times to speed up the investigation. Humphrey said:

"I have twice instructed Winn to press forward these cases—and I hope that the public attention which has been called to these 'cures' will result in legislation giving the Commission jurisdiction in all such cases without having to prove a legitimate competitor."

SCAN CLAIMS ON LABELS

Humphrey said he had sought an appointment with Senator Copeland (Dem.), of New York, a physician, to discuss legislation giving the commission unquestioned authority in such cases.

The food and drug administration at the Department of Agriculture today began an investigation into the death of Byers.

It will look into the claims on the labels of the preparation which Byers began taking about two years ago.

Dr. Frederick J. Cullen explained that if the statements are

Towboat Hits Bridge As Flood Stage Nears

NO. 11 ELKS PUT UNDER RUM BAN

Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court today granted a preliminary liquor injunction against the Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11, Elks, 100 Seventh street, banning violations of the dry law pending a final hearing June 14.

A petition, signed by Robert S. Krause, deputy prohibition administrator, cited that agents who raided the club February 8 seized a large quantity of gin, whisky and beer within the building and several barrels of beer being delivered.

Ortiz Rubio, Calles Safe in Auto Crash

MEXICO CITY, April 1.—(INS.)—President Ortiz Rubio, Gen. Calles, Minister of War, and Gen. Joaquin Amaro, former Minister of War, escaped injury today when their automobile plunged into a gully on the road to Cuyutlan. The machine was wrecked.

The party had been lost for hours in a thick forest near Hacienda Cualatta.

Estranged Husband Kills Wife in Church

SIKESTON, Mo., April 1.—(AP.)—Walking quietly into the Baptist Church in a rural section last night, Larry Hargraves, 25, drew a pistol and fired three bullets into the head of his estranged wife, Beulah Ervin Hargraves, 18. She died instantly.

Second River Mishap Marks Steady Rise Here

Topdecks of the towboat A. B. Sheets, of the Hillman Transportation Company fleet, were flattened today in the second river mishap within the past 24 hours of high water here.

The towboat, disabled in the Allegheny river above the Ninth street bridge, swung around in midstream with an empty barge in tow. The swift current carried the helpless craft close inshore and beneath the low hanging approach to the bridge on the downtown side. Efforts of the crew to make an anchorage failed. The stacks, topmast and wheelhouse above decks were leveled. The damaged craft was later tied up to the Pittsburgh Coal Company dock.

Two barges of steel and coke, of a tow of six being towed by the steamer Edgar Thomson, of the Carnegie Steel Company, were swept over the dam at Lock No. 1, Monongahela River, last night, by the swift current. The steamer and the rest of the tow were saved when the steel-laden barges held on the dam until taken off by another boat.

Local rivers were creeping toward flood stage as the mark at the Point Bridge at 2 p. m. was 23.6 feet. Melting snow in the upper valleys filled the tributaries and brought the rising waters above the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks on the North Side. Nearby sidewalks also were inundated. No damage of consequence would result. Weather Forecaster W. S. Broizman declared.

TAX MEASURE APPROVED IN HOUSE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The House today, sitting as the committee of the whole, approved the billion-dollar tax bill, thus assuring final passage of the budget-balancing measure. Leaders predicted completion of the bill by night.

The measure, as approved by the committee of the whole, is estimated to produce $1,279,900,000 a year, or $38,400,000 more than the Treasury says will be needed to balance the budget during the fiscal year 1933.

EXPECTED SAVINGS

New taxes carried in the bill totaled $1,049,400,000, but the Ways and Means Committee added to this an expected saving of $200,000,000 in federal expenditures and $30,000,000 to be obtained by revision of postal rates other than first class.

Last-minute changes were made in the bill, including imposition of the normal income tax on stock dividends, after Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills notified the Ways and Means Committee the bill failed to assure balancing of the budget. He told the committee that federal expenses could be cut but $125,000,000 a year.

This brought a reply from Speaker John N. Garner, in which he branded the Treasury estimate as "unfair" and assailed President Hoover and Secretary Mills for "failure to co-operate" in cutting cost of government.

Acting Chairman Crisp declared

DR. KANE, OWN SURGEON, DIES

KANE, Pa., April 1.—(AP.)—Dr. Evan O'Neill Kane, who attained nation-wide note in 1919 by removing his own appendix and who recently performed a second operation upon himself, died today.

He was 72 years old.

The surgeon, long prominent for his work in treatment of cancer, died at 4 a. m. after a siege of pneumonia. He has been in ill health for several weeks.

A few months ago Dr. Kane performed the second operation on himself to relieve hernia. As was the case in his first feat, he used a local anesthetic and mirrors in treating the affected parts. He said the operation was successful.

Dr. Kane's father, Maj. Gen. Thomas L. Kane, was one of the founders of the town of Kane, which was named for him.

One son, Elisha Kent Kane, was born to his first wife and five sons to his second. The latter are William Kane, of Philadelphia; Dr. Bernard Kane, of Chicago; Dr. Thomas L. Kane, of Chicago, and Philip and Robert Kane, twins, of Kane.

COUNTY HEADS ROW ON FIRING OF FUGASSI

Mansfield Clashes With Barr On Latter's Authority in 'Relieving' Road Official

John A. Fugassi, political figure and former magistrate, was "fired" today from his position as maintenance superintendent of the Department of Highways. The firing precipitated a wordy battle between Commissioner W. D. Mansfield and C. M. Barr.

Two conferences of the Commissioners were held after Fugassi was given a letter by L. F. Bechtel, a maintenance engineer, telling him of his removal.

The letter, which caused the row, read:

"By order of the County Commissioners, we have been directed to place L. F. Bechtel in charge of the maintenance department at once."

DENIAL BY COMMISSIONERS

It was signed by F. J. Chester, director of the department. Commissioners C. C. McGovern, Mansfield and Barr, however, at first all denied they had taken such action as the letter indicated. Later, Chester said he was responsible for the letter.

Mansfield then called Barr for a conference, at which it developed that Mansfield felt that Chester's action was not legal because the entire board had not acted in Fugassi's dismissal. Barr brought the first conference to an end by declaring:

"It must have been an emergency that caused the director to take this action, and I'll back him up."

Half an hour later a second conference was called, and Mansfield invited Chester to take part. After a short discussion, Barr admitted that he told the director to relieve Fugassi. Mansfield then asked:

"Why did you not bring this up at yesterday's meeting?"

OVERSIGHT, SAYS BARR

Barr replied:

"It was an oversight. My action all goes back to Moriarity, whom we fired yesterday. He told me that it was a pity they didn't burn every record in Fugassi's department.

"When we divided the work here, I was named a committee of one to handle the Department of Highways and I ordered that Bechtel be put in charge. I didn't know what you were talking about when you asked if Fugassi had been fired. He was relieved of his duties."

Mansfield interrupted to ask:

"What other duties did you give him?"

Barr replied:

"None."

READY TO FIRE ANYBODY

Mansfield then declared:

"Well, no director of any department or any one commissioner has the legal right to fire anybody or to direct any department head to fire anybody. What's your answer to keeping Kenna?" (Mansfield had previously declared that if anybody should be fired it should be Kenna because he hadn't done any work for eight years.)

Barr replied:

"There isn't any answer. I'm ready to fire anybody."

Mansfield then declared:

"I don't know anything about you being appointed a committee of one. What department as I supposed to have charge of?"

Barr looked at Chester and and neither attempted to reply. As the meeting broke up, Barr declared:

GUARDS GUILTY IN RIOT KILLING

UNIONTOWN, April 1.—A mine superintendent and eight guards of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, on trial charged with murder, today were found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the death of Mike Philipovich during the Arnold City strike riot last June.

The jury returned its verdict today after deliberating since Wednesday afternoon.

The jury took 40 ballots before reaching an agreement.

Attorney W. Brown Higbee, of counsel for the defense, immediately moved that the verdict be set aside on the grounds that the jurors had separated during their deliberations.

Few spectators were in Judge Davis W. Henderson's courtroom as the verdict was read.

Gwen Lee's Mother Drops Guardian Suit

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—(AP.)—A suit to have Gwen Lee, screen actress, declared incompetent, was withdrawn yesterday by her mother, Mrs. Etta Lepinsky.

Mrs. Lepinsky asked the dismissal of a petition to have herself appointed guardan for her daughter, explaining Miss Lee's health had greatly improved since a nervous breakdown. The petition for guardianship said Miss Lee owned property and jewels worth $100,000.

N. J. TROOPER ON SECRET TRIP TO EUROPE

International News Service.

TRENTON, N. J., April 1.—Maj. Charles A. Schoeffel, of the New Jersey State Police, has sailed for Europe on a "lead" in connection with the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby a month ago tonight, it was officially admitted today by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police.

Maj. Schoeffel is considered one of the brainiest men working on the Lindbergh investigation. He is a thoroughly experienced police officer.

DESTINATION SECRET

Col. Schwarzkopf declined to disclose Schoeffel's destination or give any idea of the nature of the clue he was running down, but later it became known that Maj. Schoeffel's destination is England and that he probably will confer with representatives of Scotland Yard.

His investigation may take him to Scotland, too.

It is understood he sailed aboard the Mauretania for England. One report was that he booked passage under the name of Carl Schoeffel.

Schoeffel, very active in the early phase of the investigation, disappeared quietly from Hopewell late last week. Since then his whereabouts had aroused conjecture and speculation.

RECALL FORMER QUIZ

The Mauretania will arrive in Southampton in a few days. According to the Cunard Line, the Mauretania is due in Plymouth Monday morning. The liner then goes to Cherbourg and thence to Southampton.

Why Schoefel so suddenly and mysteriously departed was not stated, but there was a persistent report that he had taken the ransom note with him.

The investigation had turned to the British Isles once before, it was recalled. Shortly after the kidnaping, the New Jersey authorities asked Scotland Yard to investigate the past of Betty Gow, the stolen baby's nurse, and Ollie Wheatley, the Lindbergh's butler.

REPORT WITHHELD

Betty Gow came from Edinburgh, Scotland. Her friend, Henry (Red) Johnson, the sailor, who has been detained for questioning in connection with the case, sailed at one time under the British flag.

Results of the Scotland Yard's inquiry never were made public.

Lightkeeper's Wife Awaits Stork on Lonely Isle

HULL, Mass., April 1.—(AP.)—A gale which last night kept medical assistance from Mrs. R. C. Norwood, an expectant mother, abated today and a Coast Guard crew took Dr. Walter H. Sturgis out to Little Brewster Island, where the woman's husband is assistant keeper of the Boston light.

High winds and a raging sea which beat upon the rock island last night prevented the physician from landing after Coast Guardsmen had taken him out to the island.

With mild weather prevailing, the possibility of taking Mrs. Norwood to a mainland hospital was discussed. The physician urged this course, but the woman's husband was anxious to have the child born on the lonely island at the entrance to Boston harbor.

Two years ago this month, shortly before the arrival of Mrs. Norwood's sixth child, she was taken from the island late at night at the height of a northwest gale, to the Chelsea Marine Hospital, where the baby was born.

Mrs. Norwood's seventh child probably will be born on the island within the next few days. After discussing the possibility of removing her to a mainland hospital, Dr. Sturgis departed, and Norwood said his wife would remain on the island.

Farrell Marks 50 Years In Steel Business

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP.)—James A. Farrell, veteran steel master and president of the United States Steel Corporation, came down to his office today and was greeted by his secretary with:

"Congratulations, sir."

As he dived head first into a huge pile of correspondence, the official asked:

"What for?"

"Well, today happens to be the fiftieth anniversary of your connection with the Steel Corporation or its predecessors."

Mr. Farrell was also elected to the presidency of the corporation 21 years ago, so the anniversary proved to be a sort of double one. He was formerly head of the United States Steel Products Company, a subsidiary.

He will retire from his position at the annual meeting of stockholders, April 18, having reached the retirement age of 70 years.

He is still hale and hearty and his hobby is the sea. It has been reported that when he steps out of the presidency of "Big Steel" he will take a long voyage on a favorite sailing clipper that he owns. In May, however, he will attend the meeting of the Foreign Trade Council in Honolulu. He is chairman of the council.

ARMSTRONG BLAMED AT QUIZ FOR HIGH TRUCKING COSTS

DECLARE BROWN IGNORED AT AIRPORT

,orks Director Superseded; Bills for Hauling Doubled, Charge Made by Engineer

Former County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong took over Norman F. Brown's job as director of public works, and by hiring Watson Bowser & Bro., doubled the cost of the trucking job, according to the testimony of L. F. Bechtel, county maintenance engineer, at the audit hearing before Controller Robert G. Woodside.

Bowser, who attended yesterday's session and was expected to be called as a witness, did not take the stand. At the conclusion of the hearing Woodside extended the subpena under which Bowser was summoned until Monday morning, when he must either produce his books or be committed to jail. This action will precipitate a court fight on the authority of the Controller to conduct the audit.

WOODSIDE FIRM

A move of Bowser's attorneys to have the terms of the subpena modified concerning time books brought a ruling from Woodside that all records must be brought in. Woodside, pounding on his desk announced in stentorian tones:

"I am not taking the position that Bowser's presence here or production of any of his records are unnecessary. I am excusing him today, but that means that he must produce all of his records Monday morning at 10 o'clock."

M. C. Conrick, chief auditor for Main & Co. has testified county time books on the Bowser job have been destroyed.

Bechtel was called to the stand by Attorney O. K. Eaton, who represents Bowser, and testified more than an hour as to the methods of checking the work of Bowser's trucks. Bechtel testified that every load hauled was checked accurately and that the hauling was done efficiently. Some trucks were ordered put on an hourly basis instead of tonnage, Bechtel said, and when he was asked if this was advantageous to the county he said:

"I was ordered to put them on the hourly basis."

COST DOUBLED

On cross examination by Assistant County Solicitor Ralph H. Frank, Bechtel over the strenuous objections of Eaton, testified that if his plan had been adopted it would have only cost the county 30 cents a ton to put the slag on the airport instead of the 60 cents a ton paid Watson Bowser and Brother.

Bechtel said:

"I devised the modus operandi of surfacing the airport. My plan was to haul the slag in freight cars right on the airport, unload it with mechanical equipment and have it hauled by trucks on a ton-mile basis."

Frank asked:

"Was this an idle dream or a practicable proposition?"

Bechtel testified that the plan is similar to that used at all coal mines and tipples, that there already was a railroad siding that of the Union Railroad leading into the airport and that he estimated the delivered price on the field for the slag would have been 30 cents a ton, allowing for a 25 per cent contingency item in his figuring.

OBJECTS TO QUESTIONS

Frank asked:

"Could you have done the work Bowser did for 60 cents at this 30-cent price?"

Eaton objected and Frank said:

"You called this witness and now you are objecting when we are just getting to the meat in the coconut."

Woodside overruled Eaton's objection and Bechtel answered:

"Yes."

Bechtel testified that he discussed his plan with John A. Negri, head of the Maintenance department, and that this was the only plan being considered when he was told that Bowser's trucks were to do the job. Bechtel testified:

"Mr. Fugassi advised me that the Commissioners had entered into a contract with Bowser. He said that Commissioner Armstrong had arranged the contract, and that Armstrong had taken over Norman Brown's duties as director as far as the airport was concerned."

Asked by Controller Woodside if he had discussed his plan with Brown, Bechtel replied:

"No, Brown did not enter into it. I talked only with Fugassi, who had contact with the Commissioners' office."

League Proposes Credit to Austria

GENEVA, April 1 (AP)—The League of Nations financial committee today issued a report recommending immediate credit to Austria of 150,000,000 schillings ($14,000,000), and a years moratorium to Greece.

The report is for consideration at the special session of the League Council called for April 12. Relief for the Balkan states is one of the main points made in the report, which foresees an impending business crisis even more serious than present conditions.

117 MOTORISTS ARRESTED IN DRIVE HERE

Highway Patrolmen Stop All Cars Not Inspected; Fines, Forfeits Result

State highway patrolmen and city police, co-operating here today in a round up of motorists who failed to display the new inspection stickers, took 117 automobilists into alderman's offices in various sections of the city where they were either fined or held under forfeits for later hearings.

Among those gathered in during the roundup was J. A. McKee, of 24 Roycroft street, president of the adjustment department of the Parmelee Company, operators of the Yellow and Green cabs. Mr. McKee told Alderman Jacob Yearer that he had been out of town and had not an opportunity to secure a sticker. He posted $25 for a hearing late today.

GARAGES UNDER FIRE

In some instances where the cars carried stickers but the machines were found in unsatisfactory condition, the officers took the names of the garages which inspected the autos with the object of filing informations against them for violation of the auto inspection laws. Registration as official garages will be revoked and the garage owner fined $25 if the case is proved, according to Lieut. A. J. Oldham.

TALK TO OFFICERS

Oldham and Traffic Inspector Jacob Dorsey addressed the officers in the City-County Building this morning and instructed them to take all those whose cars did not bear stickers to the nearest alderman's office for disposition. The officers were instructed to be on the lookout for other motor code violations.

Capt. P. J. Dorr, deputy superintendent of the highway patrol, delivered a message to the motorists of the state last night through radio station WCAE, Voice of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Fox Chapel 'Playboy' Flying to End Romance

Harrison McCready, the wealthy young clubman, playboy and lumberman, of Fox Chapel Manor, was in El Paso, Tex., today ready to step into Juarez, Mexico, where he will seek annulment of his marriage to Marguerite Helen Heasley, formerly of Hays street, according to an Associated Press dispatch from El Paso.

The brief romance with his stenographer bride included airplane trips to Florida and other points and then the crash formally recorded last Saturday when Mrs. McCready No. 2 sued for maintenance. She charged he had put her out of his palatial Fox Chapel Manor two months after their marriage and was giving nothing toward her support. She was back with her mother, Mrs. Harriet Heasley. Fox Chapel Manor has been leased by McCready.

McCready's first marriage in 1928 was an elopement to Cumberland, Md. It ended when his first wife secured a divorce. His second marriage followed soon after.

McCready, who arrived in El Paso in a chartered plane from Los Angeles, said his wife was not aware of his intended annulment proceedings.

NORFOLK, Va., April 1.—Mrs. John Hughes Curtis, wife of a local shipbuilder, was on duty today as the fourth member of the group attempting to negotiate for the return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby.

Mrs. Curtis has been away from her home here since last Tue day on a secret mission "contacti with representatives of the su posed kidnaping band, International News Service learned today.

The three negotiators—Curtis, the Very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock and Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage—decided to use Mrs. Curtis as a "clearing house" in their effort to conclude happily the negotiations.

FOLLOWS INSTRUCTIONS

She is unacquainted with the exact status of earlier conversations with the supposed abductors and is merely following specific instructions issued by the trio.

Curtis confirmed the fact that his wife was away on a trip to an unknown destination.

He pointed out that she was in no danger in undertaking the mission.

The shipbuilder said he expected her to return some time early next week.

The inclusion of a trusted woman in the group of negotiators was prompted by the fact that the wide publicity had turned the spotlight upon every movement of the original trio of Norfolk citizens.

PERSONAL CONTACT ONLY

In addition, the three emissaries, disturbed at reports that their telephone wires were being tapped and their movements trailed, are determined to conduct all negotiations with the purported kidnapers "by personal contact only," Curtis told International News Service:

"The negotiations are proceeding as well as can be expected."

While expressing optimism, the shipbuilder again pointed out that the publicity attending their efforts to consummate a deal with the supposed kidnapers had limited their activities and "slowed up" negotiations.

HOOVER SCORED ON BONUS

WASHINGTON, April 1 (INS)—Soldiers' bonus war clouds gathered today as the House Ways and Means Committee prepared to hold hearings on two bills.

President Hoover was criticised on the floor of the Senate late yesterday for "vetoing the bill in advance" by Senator Thomas (Dem.), of Oklahoma, author of the Senate bill. Bills in the House were presented by Representatives Rankin (Dem.), of Mississippi, and Patman (Dem.), of Texas.

Thomas declared that demands for complete payment of the bonus were made only after the Congress had voted two billions to relieve the railroads and the big bankers. He said the delegates who opposed the bonus at the American Legion convention at Detroit were those who had enough money to pay their railroad fares, and did not represent those in need of funds.

Thomas said:

"If I had been chief executive during the past three years and found the treasury in the condition it is in today, I would keep silent about legislation unbalancing the budget."

NEW KLINE JURY PANEL DRAWN

From the Butler County jury wheel 60 names have been drawn for the May court term during which the trial of Mayor Charles H. Kline and former Supplies Director Bertram Succop will be held.

The selection of the jury panel was supervised by Sheriff Lawrence Thompson, who returned to Butler from the East, where he was convalescing from an illness. The names of the new prospective jurors will not be made public until the required 20 days before the court term begins.

From the 60 selected yesterday a jury will be picked to try the seven men and women who have been indicted for an alleged attempt to tamper with the panel selected for the March term when the Kline trial was originally scheduled.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park of Allegheny County said he was prepared to dispatch a squad of detectives to Butler County to protect the new jury.

Byers' Death Accidental, Autopsy Physician Holds

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—The death of Elwin MacBurney Byers, wealthy Pittsburgh iron manufacturer and internationally-known sportsman, was accidental, Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, found today.

The finding was placed on a new death certificate signed by Dr. Norris, who conducted an autopsy today. The examiner added the notation that Byers drank radium water for the past two years.

The autopsy showed that the poisoning had led to ravages of both jaws, stomach, brain, abscess and fistula to bronchial passages. These causes were listed on the new death certificate which was filed after the Bureau of Vital Statistics had rejected the first one on the ground that the cause of death was improperly explained. In the certificate permission was formally asked for removal of the body to Pittsburgh for burial in Allegheny Cemetery.

FUNERAL TOMORROW

Meanwhile J. Dennison Lyons, a brother-in-law of Byers, said the body would leave for Sewickley, suburb of Pittsburgh, tonight, and the funeral would be held at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of a brother, J. F. Byers, in Sewickley.

Lyons said Byers' illness began about five years ago as the result of falling from a Pullman berth while en route home from a Yale-Harvard football game. One of his arms was injured in the fall.

Dr. Charles F. Boldman, director of the Bureau of Health and Education, said today the sale of radium-treated waters had been banned in New York City since 1918. He explained that there was no active law against their sale, but a special section of the sanitary code enacted in 1915 required that the sale of all patented medicated fluids must be made under a Health Department permit and no such permit was ever applied for by the makers or sellers of any radioactive medium.

ASKS AID OF EXPERT

Dr. Norris announced that he was called for the assistance of Dr. Harrison S. Martland, chief medical examiner of Essex County, New Jersey, with headquarters at Newark, who, in his opinion, is the foremost authority on radium poisoning in the country.

Dr. Martland is the official who determined the source of radium poisoning suffered by a number of women workers employed to paint watch and clock dials with luminous paint.

Dr. Alexander O. Gettler, city toxicologist, also will assist in the extensive microscopical and chemical examination of the bone and tissue which is deemed necessary.

BURKE AMUSED BY GLASS

The outburst of Carter Glass, Virginia Senator, attacking James Francis Burke's testimony before a Senate committee, left Burke more amused than offended, he said last night.

Burke, testifying against the Glass bill amending the Federal Reserve act before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, indicated he had voted for the Federal Reserve law after its modification, according to Glass. Both men served in the House in 1913.

Challenging Burke's testimony, Glass was reported to have said:

"I consulted the Congressional Record concerning the vote, and I found Mr. Burke is an infernal liar. He not only voted against the final passage of the bill, but also voted against the conference report."

Declaring he was amused by the outburst, Burke said last night he spoke and voted against the bill introduced by Glass in 1913 because the bankers and businessmen protested it. He said he didn't remember his vote on the conference report 19 years ago.

Blond Hair Clue in 'Ride Killing of Wire Tapper

County detectives today apparently were without a clue to the identity of the killer of Joseph (Woggles) Jacobs, ex-convict and wire tapper, whose body was found in his automobile in lonely Homestead road, Penn Township, Wednesday night.

A number of medium length wisps of blond hair found on the seat of Jacobs' automobile are believed by deputy coroners and detectives to be those of the killer. The hair was found mixed with the black hair of the victim, indicating the killing had been preceded by a struggle.

Jack Woodrow, 26, of 8 Miley street, and Louis Crater, of Galveston avenue, arrested with Jacobs a month ago in a Galves avenue rooming house where detectives reported finding th telephones and tapping equipme were questioned yesterday and leased. The two were unable shed any light on the killing, was said.

Plymouth Cut Expected to Follow Those of Ford and Chevrolet; Keen Rivalry

International News Service.

DETROIT, April 1.—Clearing the way for the automotive industry's greatest sales battle, General Motors yesterday announced price cuts of $55 on all its Chevrolet models. The new prices will set the Chevrolet base cost at $445 compared to Ford base prices of $460 for an eight and $410 for a four-cylinder car.

Prices of the new Plymouth floating power models to be shown by Walter P. Chrysler tomorrow are expected to be affected by the Ford and Chevrolet announcements.

SIXES CONTINUED

W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, said in announcing the price cuts that his firm will continue to manufacture sixes for an indefinite period.

The Chevrolet officials, Knudsen declared, have no thought of changing from the six-cylinder car, which has led the industry in sales for 15 months and brought the company the highest percentage of automotive business it has ever enjoyed.

The cuts in price apply on all 14 of the company's passenger models. Announcement of reductions on the eve of the national exhibition of General Motors products in 55 cities, beginning April 2, will arouse new interest in motor cars and help to stimulate the basic automotive industry, Knudsen said.

FEAR FOR BABY RESCUED FROM DRILL HOLE

'I Feel Bad,' Says Boy In Hospital After Eleven Hours in Zinc Mine Shaft

MIAMI, Okla., April 1.—(AP.)—After tossing fretfully and telling his nurse frequently, "I feel bad," 3-year-old Gerald Collins, who was rescued last night from a drill hole at a mine near Picher, Okla., was carefully examined at a hospital today.

Physicians found his head was swollen, apparently from bruises, and he had a bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Collins, the youthful parents, spent the night in the hospital with the boy.

X-RAYS PLANNED

The doctors planned to take X-rays to determine if any bones were broken.

Wan and bruised, but with a courageous "I'm all right," the 3-year-old, doubled up for 11 hours 20 feet below the surface of the earth, was rescued through a parallel shaft last night.

"He's alive."

Out from beyond the lights of the little rescue area a roar of thanks echoed through the hills from the throats of thousands of watchers.

'TALKS BLUE STREAK'

Whirled in an ambulance 11 miles to the Baptist Hospital here, cuddling in the mother's embrace of Mrs. Paul Collins, little Gerald "talked a blue streak" and didn't appear badly hurt.

Toddling after his workbound father, Gerald stopped to play about the 250-foot drill hole yesterday morning. Its maximum diameter is about a foot.

CALLS FOR SPEED

As his rescuers neared success the boy called:

"Hurry Daddy, take me, take me!"

"Daddy" Collins, young mine prospector, said:

"Gee, but he's a gritty one."

His blue-eyed mother, with her baby at last in her arms, sobbed:

"God love you!"

First efforts to drag the baby to safety with a rope were futile. A pick-and-shovel brigade moved quickly to sink the parallel shaft. A steam shovel was wheeled into play, but it balked at the rock. Then a compressed-air drill was found, and shifts of two and four men, working with all their might, conquered the barrier.

WIFE, CHILDREN SEE PAULETTA IN JAIL

Never Abused, Says Woman, On Way to Plead for Miner Doomed for Old Killing

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., April 1.—(AP.)—Reunited with her husband for the first time since his arrest as a fugitive from the gallows, Mrs. Frank Pauletta denied today that the condemned man ever had mistreated her.

It was a scene that brought tears to the eyes of prison guards when Mrs. Pauletta and her four children visited the prisoner in West Virginia Penitentiary.

ALL SHED TEARS

Wife and children cried bitterly in their brief interview with Pauletta through the wire mesh that separated him from the visitors' quarters. Pauletta, too, was in tears, but all were certain that Gov. Conley will grant clemency before April 22, the date set for execution of the death penalty.

Mrs. Pauletta and the children will go to Charleston next week to ask Gov. Conley to commute the sentence.

The wife and children—Katherine, 14; Helen, 15; John, 11, and Frank, 2—were accompanied here by Ben Capiotti, of Coverdale, Pa., an old friend of Pauletta. The family lives at Coverdale. Capiotti said a demonstration would be held there at 3 p. m. tomorrow in Pauletta's behalf.

DENIES ABUSE

Mrs. Pauletta's denial of abuse at the hands of her husband was given to refute assertions of Sheriff W. B. Grimm, of Clarksburg. The sheriff wrote to Gov. Conley telling him that Pauletta beat his wife and has not lived a good life since he escaped from prison 18 years ago.

The woman said a scar on her face was not from a wound inflicted by her husband, but that she received it in intervening in a quarrel between two other men.

Judge Musmanno Ready To Plead for Miner

Judge M. A. Musmanno, urged by Mrs. Frank Pauletta to seek mercy for her husband, Coverdale miner doomed to hang for a crime committed 18 years ago in West Virginia, said today that he will confer with Attorney James Cann in Clarksburg, W. Va., either Tuesday or Wednesday, to determine just what can be done for Pauletta.

Discussing Mrs. Pauletta's request, Judge Musmanno said he is willing to take the case. He declared:

"I am willing to do what I can for Pauletta, not of course as an attorney, nor in a judicial capacity, but as a citizen convinced that the hanging of Frank Pauletta at this time would be shocking to the finer instincts of merciful mankind and contrary to the American sense of fair play.

"From my knowledge and investigation I am convinced that not only is Pauletta not fitted for the gallows, but he is a person that well can be trusted in organized society where for 18 years he has proven himself a peaceable man, good husband, a kind father and a faithful worker."

The balance in the motor fund today was $28,282,773. Receipts during March were $19,105,157, and payments, $19,532,875.

2 SISTERS ASK DIVORCES

Two South Side sisters appeared in divorce court today and recited marital woes they said culminated in desertion.

Mrs. Hazel Robertson, 20, told Judge George V. Moore she was married to Clarence T. Robertson December 7, 1928, and deserted by him 14 months later. Mrs. Albertina Martin, 18, who wed Raymond Martin May 2, 1929, said she was deserted the following November.

The latter said she eloped to Cumberland, Md., when only 15 years old. She said her husband deserted her because he objected to children. There was one child born to each union.

The plaintiffs are the daughters of William S. Giles, of 134 South Twenty-first street. They were represented by Attorney N. J. Lippard.

Hampered financially, but confident of the worth of their production, they say, members of the cast of the Passion Play being staged at Syria Mosque will produce their show tonight and tomorrow, the closing day, whether or not they receive salaries for their efforts.

John Harris, of New York, company manager, said arrangements had been made that assured that the curtain would rise tonight, and whether or not the visiting players get paid depends largely on the reception the play gets at its closing performances.

The play is sponsored by the various young people's organizations of the local Protestant churches.

MARCH COLDEST WINTER MONTH

March, which went out like a lion yesterday, was the only bright spot of the winter to coal dealers, a checkup disclosed today.

The month, which by the almanac is regarded as the first of spring, was actually the coldest of the winter, according to the figures of Forecaster W. S. Brotzman.

The mean temperature for March was 33.6 degrees, compared with December's average of 41.5, January, 41.8, and February, 38.3. Only in four other years, 1915, 1896, 1885 and 1872 has March been colder than this year. The total deficiency in temperature was 188 degrees.

As a result coal dealers said their sales for domestic purposes shot upward. For the other months of this winter, sales were down about 50 per cent, due to the mild weather and general business conditions.

A hostess in a leading Downtown restaurant, whose entertaining of a number of prominent men was not confined to the grill, according to testimony of her family and her husband, danced her way to a divorce.

The husband, Charles O. Ball, 32, Penn-Shady Hotel, theatrical promoter, was granted a divorce from Isabel Ball, 30, of 517 South Murtland avenue, by Judge George V. Moore, in Common Pleas Court, on grounds of indignities.

Mrs. Ball went horseback riding with a man whom she accompanied on an airplane trip to Virginia, and accompanied a broker, and others on long automobile trips, also kept company with a salesman employed by her husband, and neglected her home and child, her relatives and husband testified. They were married June 6, 1924.

'JUST CALL US SOPH, RUDY AND RAY'

SOPHIE TUCKER — RUDY VALLEE — RAY PERKINS

Gay WCAE Bill Veils Toil Of Sophie, Rudy and Ray

Last night's hour of Rudy Vallee, Sophie Tucker and Ray Perkins today was only a memory to radio listeners, but it was a rest from a rehearsal nightmare for the trio whose national broadcast originated in Station WCAE, "Voice of the Sun-Telegraph," and was relayed by wire to New York to be sent on the air.

The three stars appeared happy on their program but the listener could not see the behind-the-scene activities throughout yesterday. Here's how the day was spent:

Rudy up early, hasty breakfast and to WCAE studio at 9 o'clock. Band is awaiting its leader. Start first rehearsal. Rudy handles himself coolly, but knows what he wants and in no uncertain words makes the individual player play it. Rudy works hard. They repeat this—then that.

Sophie Tucker arrives in city at 9:20 a. m. Ray Perkins is with her. Also, Jack Yellen, her composer and continuity writer, and Ted Shapiro, her pianist. They rush to hotel, unpack grips and hurry to the studio. Rehearsal starts on full program. Perkins just as amusing when heard from a radio set. Works hard on wise cracks composed by himself. Just as much effort as if audience watched.

Sophie goes into dialogue, then song. After a number asks Yellen how it was. Is criticized . . . too slow . . . too low. The songbird of vaudeville likes to be told when she is wrong.

Rehearsal ends at 1:30 p. m. Rudy grabs quick lunch and then to theater for matinee. Sophie, Ray and others get their lunch and back to more practice. Full rehearsal with band resumes at 6:45 and program goes on air at 8 p. m. A hard day is ended. Miss Tucker boards train for Toronto and Perkins returns to New York. Rudy to theater by cab for night performance.

ANOTHER, different, story of death comes from Niagara. Hundreds of wild swans, lighting on the river above the falls to rest, were trapped in the swift current, which would not let them rise, many killed.

How many tragedies that cataract has seen. Indians in their canoes, struggling against the current. White men and women, seeking death, and often changing their minds, shrieking for help, too late, and now the giant power that roared so long, in solitude, is harnessed and meekly earning dividends for the wise.

THE THIRD and last death story is that of a fierce water buffalo that had long lorded it over all the inhabitants of a swamp on Northern Luzon Island, in the Philippine Islands. Little did the buffalo dream that death was approaching in the form of a soldier, relentless governor general named Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

There stood the buffalo, pawing savagely. Gov. Roosevelt let one piercing eye run along the rifle barrel, over the sight, straight between the buffalo's eyes. One shot, and the buffalo bit the dust, or whatever the floor of the swamp may have been.

"Single Shot Teddy," his hunting friends call him now. The shot was fired at one hundred and fifty yards.

W.-J. Inducts 32-Year-Old President Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 1.—Dr. Ralph C. Hutchison, graduate of Lafayette College and Princton Theological Seminary and former dean of the College of Teheran, Persia, will be inaugurated as president of Washington and Jefferson College tomorrow. He assumed his duties a few months ago.

Presidents of 35 colleges and representatives of more than 100 colleges and universities of the nation will attend the exercises, at which the principal address will be delivered by Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president Stanford University and Secretary of the Interior in the cabinet of President Hoover.

Dr. Hutchison becomes president of the school at the age of 32 years and has the distinction of being the youngest executive in the history of the college which was chartered in 1802 and was founded by Dr. John McMillan, pioneer Presbyterian minister in this section.

The inaugural program will open with a faculty reception for delegates, alumni and other guests at 10:15 o'clock.

At 11:15 Dr. Wilbur will deliver the address of the day, to be followed by the inaugural luncheon and academic procession.

Formal inauguration of Dr. Hutchison will take place at 3 o'clock, with Judge James I. Brownson, president of the board of trustees, presiding and administering the oath to Dr. Hutchison.

An informal reception will be held after the inauguration for delegates, alumni, guests, faculty and students.

M'ADOO FINDS GARNER POWER INCREASING

Political Interest Centering On Speaker, Ex-Secretary Hints After U. S. Air Tour

Universal Service.

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—"Garner is growing stronger all the time."

This declaration was made by William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury in the war-time cabinet of President Woodrow Wilson. After a cross-country flight to Washington and New York, McAdoo, who arrived here yesterday, stopped in Arizona, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and North Carolina. He said:

"Everywhere I found a much keener interest in politics than on my visit to New York last fall. It centers, of course, in the next Democratic presidential candidate, since the renomination of Mr. Hoover is generally conceded.

COURAGE LAUDED

"Mr. Garner is growing stronger all the time. His courageous action in taking the floor of Congress a few days ago, when as a rule a Speaker does not leave the chair for that purpose, has received general commendation.

"Garner's leadership has been strikingly shown by the results already achieved in the House. He has the strength of his convictions and is not afraid to assume responsibilities and to take charge of any crisis which comes in the line of duty.

"The fact that Garner is both a western and a southern man and that he knows the problems of agriculture as well as of government finance and administration, commends him strongly to the people.

APPEAL FOR FARMERS

"There is no doubt that if Congress would immediately enact a bill to give our wheat and cotton farmers the protection of adequate tariff duties on the amount of wheat and cotton consumed in the United States, and provide the necessary machinery for putting the benefit of those duties into the pockets of the farmers, as can be readily done, their purchasing power would be restored and a revival of sound prosperity would immediately begin.

Injured Woman Trapped in Car By Live Wires

MRS. MARY SPEHAR

Auto Tears Down Poles, Periling Travelers

Mrs. Mary Spehar, 31, of 4520 Stanton avenue, narrowly escaped death or serious injury this morning when an automobile in which she was riding with two companions struck a pole at the Morrania crossing of the Pittsburgh Railways Company. High tension wires, which were knocked down by the crash hung over the side of the machine, keeping the women a prisoner in the car for nearly half an hour. Street car traffic was tied up on the line for more than an hour.

Mrs. Spehar is in the Canonsburg Hospital suffering a fractured jaw, broken nose and lacerations of the face. Mrs. Mary Schaeffer, of 114 Forty-third street, also is in the hospital, her right ankle and left arm broken. Walter Stack, of 137 Forty-second street, driver of the automobile escaped unhurt.

The car hit an iron pole knocking down the wires which sputtered and flashed as they fell on the machine and interurban right of way. Railways employes and employes of the West Penn Power Company repaired the damage.

Mrs. Spehar in 1928 witnessed the murder of her husband, John, former saloon keeper, as they left their automobile in the rear of their Stanton avenue home. Mrs. Spehar was questioned but released when police arrested four youths who confessed to the slaying during the holdup of the couple. The four were sentenced to long terms in the Western Penitentiary.

PUBLIC WORKS LOAN FAVORED BY SMITH

New Yorker in Radio Talk Sees Hope in Prosperity Bonds and Tax on Beer

Universal Service.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith today had added his voice to the demand that the federal government put forth a large prosperity bond issue for public works to relieve unemployment.

Speaking over a NBC network last night, his talk covered a wide range of national affairs in relation to the balancing of the federal budget. He also advocated legalization of 4 per cent beer and laid particular emphasis on the unemployment bond issue in these words:

"The right thing to do is for Congress to provide for a large bond issue, with part of which the securities of municipalities may be purchased at reasonable rates of interest, so they may have funds to carry on their own public works."

The former Governor said the administration seems to regard unemployment as "something that is just too bad and cannot be helped," and that it believes "economic conditions must right themselves."

He called on the government to use all its force and power to launch the prosperity bond issue in a manner similar to that employed during the war.

He declared one-third of the budget deficit would be eliminated by bonding the cost of the $520,000,000 public works program for 1933.

Another third would be eliminated by the beer tax, he said, and added that four per cent could be fixed as a reasonable alcoholic content, being "well within any fair construction of the Eighteenth Amendment."

This latter tax, he asserted, would eliminate the necessity of the so-called nuisance tax, stimulate business, afford employment to "countless thousands" and prove to be both "good economics and good politics."

For the final one-third of the deficit, Smith accepted the additional taxes recommended by President Hoover and the Treasury and agreed to by the House.

Smith made his recommendations on the theory that the soldiers' bonus would not be provided for at this session. Should it be considered, he said it is to be provided by immediate taxation and "there is no such thing as a balancing of the budget."

He deplored the "unwillingness" of the administration "to call a special session at a time when many of the present fiscal problems could have been met and the present deficit avoided."

VET IN DAZE 11 YEARS FOUND

CHICAGO, April 1.—(AP.)—An 11-year search for a shell-shocked war veteran ended here yesterday when he was reunited with his brother and started back to the Philadelphia home he does not remember.

Frank Richardson, an actor appearing at a Chicago theater and a friend of the missing man, Tobias Burke, for 19 years, found him operating a filling station at Berwyn, a Chicago suburb, under the name of Joe Bond. He informed a brother, David Burke, who came to Chicago.

Burke was shell-shocked during the World War while serving with the famous 108th Engineers of St. Louis. After his discharge he returned to his mother's home, Mrs. Mary Burke, in Philadelphia. One night he left his home to go to his brother-in-law's next door for a medicine tablet to stop a particularly severe headache. He left the house, not to be heard from again for 11 years.

RELIEF LACK HIT BY ELLENBOGEN

Henry Ellenbogen, candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress from the Thirty-third district, denounced the failure of the federal government to deal with the unemployment question at a mass meeting in South Hills High School last night. Ellenbogen is being supported by independents against Congressman Harry A. Estep, incumbent.

The South Hills rally included talks by several candidates for the Legislature from the Sixth District, a number being introduced by Alderman Jacob Yeager, of the Nineteenth Ward. Ellenbogen said:

"A government of, by and for the bankers has blotted out the spirit of democracy in which this nation was conceived. The cleanup which was begun in the Independent Republican victories of last year must go on. The present condition of unemployment and want in this land of plenty is a disgrace."

Canal Route Urged For Cheap Shipping

Pittsburgh is given a decided shipping rate advantage over the Mid-West for Pacific Coast markets by virtue of the Panama Canal, Dr. Howard Kidd of the University of Pittsburgh told the Pitt Businessmen's Club yesterday. Goods manufactured in Pittsburgh can be shipped by rail to Baltimore and by ship from that port to Pacific ports cheaper than many centers further inland can ship by rail to the West Coast, he declared.

ARMY MAY QUIT DE VALERA

By LINTON WELLS
International News Service.

DUBLIN, April 1.—Eamonn De Valera, president of the Irish Free State Executive Council, encountered new difficulties with opposing political factions today.

With his cabinet already split over abolition of the oath of allegiance and subjected to harsh criticism by extremists, De Valera was unexpectedly threatened with loss of support of the Irish Free State Army.

The trouble was precipitated by a new Army pension bill under which all soldiers disabled in active service would be rewarded by the government. As this would include members of the Irish Republican Army, who supported De Valera during the civil war, it aroused the ire of the Regular Army.

Oldfield Wins Suit Over Sills Note

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—(AP.)—Barney Oldfield, former automobile racing driver, was awarded a $10,000 judgment yesterday by the State Supreme Court.

The court held Oldfield entitled to execute a judgment for the sum against proceeds of a promissory note given by Milton Sills, motion picture actor, to J. M. Denaiger, of Los Angeles, and others. Oldfield claimed a judgment against Denaiger and contended the sum collected on the note was in fact property of Denaiger.

BUTLER URGES MARTIAL LAW TO AID NEEDY

President and Governors Should Seize Supplies, Marine Asserts on Tour

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa., April 1.—(AP.)—Gen. Smedley D. Butler, campaigning for the Republican nomination for United States Senate, last night advocated martial law as a means of emergency relief for unemployed and hungry.

He declared the President and Governors of the state, in the absence of legislative relief, should exercise their power to commandeer necessary supplies and let Congress and other debating societies decide at their political leisure how to pay for it.

Butler said:

"It is time the Legislature, Congress and other debating societies get through playing politics and appropriate money right now to feed the hungry people of this nation.

"Fortunately, however, our forefathers who founded this government put into it a method by which courageous public officials—Presidents of the United States and Governors of the states—can come to the rescue of the people.

"A status of martial law was provided under our form of government for use in national catastrophes. We are now in the midst of a national catastrophe and I feel certain there are Governors of our state who will take advantage of this legal and constitutional method of saving our people."

Speaking with considerable difficulty, Butler delivered the address in person, the first full speech he has been able to make in two days. He was forced to make his talk brief.

Ralph E. Flinn and Judge Joseph Stadtfeld, independent candidates for Republican nomination for Auditor General and Judge of the Superior Court, respectively, also spoke.

The party was to continue to Gettysburg and York today.

One Sweet Job! He's Paid to Eat Candy

CHICAGO, April 1.—(AP.)—Paid to eat candy all day long! That is William H. Beiers' job (the dream of every youngster). He is official "candy tester" for a national chain of candy manufacturers.

Beiers estimated that in his work he eats half a pound of candy a day. In his nine years in this position with the candy company, he said, he has consumed well over half a ton.

'STRONG-ARM' FUND CHARGED

HARRISBURG, April 1.—(AP.)—John R. Collins, chairman of the Democratic state committee, said today a "voluntary contribution fund" is being "strong-armed" from state employes to aid candidates supported by Gov. Pinchot.

The fund, Collins charged, is being raised to advance the campaign of Gen. Smedley D. Butler, seeking the Republican nomination for United States Senator, and for Pinchot-indorsed candidates for assemblyman, national delegates and state committeemen.

The Democratic chairman declared similar voluntary contributions were raised to enable Pinchot to defeat John M. Hemphill, Democratic candidate for governor, in 1930, and that where the contribution was not forthcoming a "job-severing" operation soon followed after the inauguration.

Adams Opposes Dry Law, Hoover

HARRISBURG, April 1.—(AP.)—William S. Adams, anti-dry candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, in a statement today asserted prohibition is the real issue in the Republican primary campaign in Pennsylvania.

He asserted that prohibition goes hand in hand with the depression. He advocated modification of the Volstead act to permit manufacture of 2.75 per cent beer to provide work for many unemployed persons. He said he will fight the nomination of President Hoover for re-election at the national convention.

Stull to Seek Seat in Congress

HARRISBURG, April 1.—(AP.)—The Cambria County Republican committee today notified the State Elections Bureau that it had selected Howard W. Stull, of Johnstown, as its candidate for unexpired term of Congressman J. Russell Leach, who resigned recently. The term expires in December, 1933.

A special election will be held in conjunction with the spring primary. Stull's only opponent at this time is George E. Wolfe, also of Johnstown, nominated by the Democratic county committee.

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—(AP.)—Rhea Hill, diminutive dancer, lost her $160,000 breach of promise and battery suit yesterday against Ace Hudkins, known in pugilistic circles as "The Nebraska Wildcat."

Independent Leaders Back Lucas and Long

Independent Republican district chairmen of the Twenty-seventh Ward, North Side, at a meeting last night indorsed Anthony Lucas, of the Twenty-seventh Ward, and Herman P. Long, of the Twenty-first Ward, as candidates for the Legislature from the Eighth District.

Fifteen districts were represented at the meeting, one of a series of weekly conferences on this active organization.

RAILWAYS MAY DISCONTINUE WEEKLY PASS

Big Decline in Revenues Is Studied by Company; Cut in Wages Proposed

Elimination of the weekly pass of the Pittsburgh Railways Company as an experiment, is being considered by the company, it was learned today, although no immediate action is contemplated.

This information was obtained following a conference yesterday of the wage committee of the Street Railways Employes with officials of the railways company.

The company, it was learned, has asked the men to accept a wage reduction of about 10 per cent. According to reports a 15 per cent cut will be made by the company if the proposed voluntary wage decrease is not accepted by the platform men. The employes, it is said, have not asked a wage increase. They will be represented by W. H. Gallagher, chairman of the wage scale committee, when wage negotiations are resumed today. These conferences will be continued for several weeks in discussing wages and working conditions.

Railway company officials claim the revenues are declining so much that they will amount to $12,000,000 or $13,000,000 this year as against approximately $22,000,000 in 1926.

Owing to the continued decline, consideration is being given to the elimination of the weekly pass, as a trial, it was learned, to ascertain whether the company is losing much by its use. To discontinue the pass and operate on the basis of three tokens for 25 cents or a 10 cent cash fare would, it is claimed by some who have given it study, demonstrate whether the pass is a losing proposition.

CITY PAYS MUCH TO UTILITIES

Approximately 20 per cent of all tax revenue of the city is spent for public utilities services, Controller James P. Kerr disclosed today after a survey conducted for the last two weeks. Kerr said 1931 tax collections were used as a basis.

The biggest amount was paid the Duquesne Light Company, whose revenue from the city last year was $1,053,309.45. Moneys paid the American Reduction Company and the Allegheny Garbage Company, construed by Kerr as public utilities organizations, was $1,783,359.14.

Other expenses to utilities, according to the Controller's figures, were: Parmalee System, taxi bills, $13,364.14; Bell Telephone Company, $58,551.04; Allegheny Steam Heating Company, $11,996.10; Equitable Gas Company, $102,726.06; Pittsburgh Railways Company, car passes and fares $1,357.01; South Pittsburgh Water Company, $606,121.14, and Pennsylvania Railroad, $11,594.09.

Tax exemptions to public utilities groups were: Land, $550,904.50, and buildings, $122,451.31.

Recluse Murdered For Hidden Wealth

NEW YORK, April 1.—(INS.)—Mrs. Estella Schackleford, 55, a recluse, was murdered because her mysterious ways of living led the killers to suspect she hoarded great wealth in her two-room flat, police believed today.

The woman's body, her hands tied behind her back, her feet bound together and a gag in her mouth, was found lying across her bed. In a handkerchief worn in the fashion of a money belt around her waist, 30 cents was found. A bank book showed deposits of $1,500 and one withdrawal of $50 the day before the murder.

TAX MEASURE APPROVED

the final bill more than meets the anticipated Treasury needs.

The House was to take separate votes on many amendments during the day, the record vote which might upset the bill.

DIVIDENDS ON LIST

The last amendment adopted provided for the taxing of additional $86,000,000 a year from income taxpayers.

The provision includes those taxpayers the right to deduct dividends from corporations which rises as high as 25 per cent. The amendment was adopted by a teller vote of [illegible].

The first paragraph under consideration [illegible] of the bill carried.

Representative Treadway (Rep., Mass.) attacked the [illegible] income tax [illegible]. Representative Reed in the Ways and Means Committee opposed.

Defending the amendment, Representative [illegible] of the committee said [illegible] of this tax [illegible] several gasoline [illegible] on checks.

Treadway unsuccessfully sought to exempt [illegible] $2,000 or less from the operation of the dividend section. As [illegible] the provision is effective until July 1, 1934.

Speaker Garner, in a conference with newspapermen after Mills had submitted his estimate, asserted:

"If Mr. Hoover and Mr. Mills would co-operate, we could save $250,000,000.

"Instead of having that co-operation, every cabinet member is going over to the Senate and yowling that we are ruining their department. How are you going to get anywhere when that happens?"

"These same cabinet officers and Mr. Hoover could save that $250,000,000 themselves if they wanted to. They refuse to do it. It could be done, it ought to be done and it will be done.

"The only thing I criticize Mills for is that he is following the old Treasury practice of making its estimates according to what argument it wants to prove. The Treasury uses statistics to make its argument to prove whatever it wants to prove.

"I have beaten the Treasury on guessing for the last 10 years.

"In this bill the individual income tax will bring in $20,000,000 more than the Treasury estimates.

CHALLENGES ESTIMATE

"Mills does not want the net loss provision in the bill, so he says it will only bring in $7,000,000.

"It will bring in $20,000,000 if it brings in a nickel. Any time he doesn't want anything in the bill he says it won't bring in any money.

"It is unfair for the treasury to come in at the last minute and reduce its estimates of three months ago by 30 or 40 per cent.

"Mills must base his estimates on a belief that things are not going to be better for the next year or two.

"The treasury ought to figure that the country will at least hold its own for the next two years. On that basis, his estimates of what revenue will be produced by this bill are too low."

Within the past few days the House has been forced to revive many of miscellaneous taxes levied during and immediately after the war, as a result of the defeat of the sales tax.

The situation created by Mills' letter was expected to add strength to a movement to restore the sales tax plan.

ACCURACY IS VITAL IN RADIO TUBES

WITH inaccurate tubes, your radio can't give faithful reception any more than a camera can take clear pictures when it is out of focus. Eveready Raytheon 4-pillar tubes have the strength to protect their vital accuracy. Four strong pillars anchor their elements in place. All other tubes use only two supports, and are easily damaged by the jolts and vibration of shipping, handling and usage.

Your dealer can demonstrate the superiority of 4-pillar tubes. To realize the difference, compare them tube for tube with others. But to hear your radio at its best, install 4-pillar tubes throughout!

WARNING! The market is flooded with old-type, slow-heater tubes. Eveready Raytheons are quick-heaters. Modern tubes heat up in 10 seconds or less.

LEAD OF KANSAS DRYS CUT TO SLIM MARGIN

National Repeal Vote Still Far in Lead But Gain By Prohibitions Continues

The only state that has had a dry majority, Kansas, comes within a fractional percentage of voting anti-dry in the seventh weekly tabulation of the Literary Digest's prohibition poll as over 500,000 additional ballots are added to the nation-wide tally, published in tomorrow's issue of the magazine.

Throughout the country as a whole, the dry vote shows a sixth consecutive gain, rising from 15.85 per cent of the total vote of the first week's returns to 25.10 per cent last week and 25.75 per cent of the current tabulation.

9 STATES VOTE 4 TO 1

Forty of the 48 states are voting three to two anti-dry in the present report. Of these states nine are voting more than three to one for repeal and nine more states are voting over four to one anti-dry.

A total of 3,715,630 votes are tallied this week from all states and the District of Columbia of which 956,863, or 25.75 per cent are for continuance of the prohibition amendment, and 2,758,767, or 74.25 per cent, are for repeal.

The seventh report in the 1930 Literary Digest prohibition poll, giving three options on the ballot instead of two, showed a total tabulation of 3,705,742 votes, of which 1,092,745, about 29½ per cent, were for enforcement; 1,105,683 votes, or approximately 30 per cent, for modification; 1,507,314, or about 40½ per cent of the total, for repeal.

In The Literary Digest's prohibition poll in 1922, the seventh week's tabulation showed a total of 787,475 ballots returned, of which 302,515, nearly 38½ per cent, were for strict enforcement; 322,328, nearly 41 per cent, were for modification, and 162,632, or approximately 20½ per cent, were for repeal.

COLOR CONTRASTS HOLD THE INTEREST IN SPRING CLOTHES

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun Telegraph.

PARIS, April 1. — Color continues to play a vital part in the new spring sartorial scheme. Designers have found that color contrasts are much liked and are constantly finding new and bright ways of utilizing two or more hues in one garment. It all began with the black dress with the light blue top sponsored by Vionnett. Although different colors are still contrasted, there is a growing demand for dark and light tones of one particular hue, as this makes it good for the ensemble theme. Light yellow and beige with very dark brown is one combination that has been highlighted, while, of course, dark blue with pale tones is too well known to us all by now to be the occasion for much excitement. We have most of us become adepts at handling color, since we are able to pick out and use difficult shades and startling contrasts and subdue them at will, no matter what our own coloring may be. Study your make-up though before going in for a marked departure from your usual color scheme. And give a thought to lighting schemes too if you are planning an evening ensemble with strong color contrasts. The brown with light yellow combine mentioned above is generally a safe bet with almost every type, however.

* * *

IN THE DRAWING for today's page we show an evening ensemble from Lucien Lelong's new collection and it features the striking color combinations that run through the entire collection of this house. The dress is of dark brown crepe Birman with an attached cape of pale yellow crepe, the cape being rounded in back. At the front it is twisted into a rope and drawn through large eyelets in the bodice. The high waist and shirred, draped bustline, seen in this dress, is repeated in the other models of the current collection. The skirt has a moulded hip and lower flare, also features of the Lelong clothes. The knee-length coat is of yellow chiffon velvet, bordered with sable. There is a softly draped scarf collar.

SITE DISCUSSED FOR BRUSHTON PLAYGROUND

Renzelhausen Executors And Residents Consider Tract in Bennett Street

Property owners of the Brushton district yesterday met executors of the estate of Frederick C. Renzelhausen, one-time operator of the Large Distilling Company, to discuss plans to establish a playground in the Brushton district in accordance with a provision in the will of the former McKeesport resident. It is hoped the $100,000 bequeathed for the purpose can be used for a playground in Bennett street near Tokio street.

Henry Renzelhausen and Miss E. Renzelhausen, brother and sister of the philanthropist approved the site and declared they were ready to go ahead if the price asked for the Bennett street property met with the approval of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board asked to appraise the property. The will provides for purchase and equipment of a playground which afterward would be maintained by the city.

The property adjoins a site owned by the Board of Education on which eventually a school will be erected. The proposed playground site is now used as a brickyard and is owned by J. H. Ward & Co., in whose offices the meeting was held.

Doctors say—
break COLDS with mustard . . .

OLD-FASHIONED? Yes. But just the same, thoroughly scientific. In the foot bath if you prefer—but for the quickest, surest results, try the hot mustard tub.

To your regular hot bath add four heaping tablespoonfuls of Colman's, mixed first in a little cold water. You'll marvel at the quick relief, the gentle, complete relaxation. A mustard bath is fine for children, too. Always keep a tin of Colman's in your medicine chest.

7 Adventurers Plan Search for Fawcett

BOSTON, April 1.—(INS.)—Seven adventurers plan to leave next July to search the Brazilian jungle for Col. P. H. Fawcett, explorer, who seven years ago entered the jungle and failed to return. The party will be under the leadership of Ralph Forrest Donaldson, it was announced.

Belief that Fawcett might be still alive and held captive by some Brazilian tribe came through statements of a Swiss explorer. One, and possibly two, airplanes may be used in the search.

RADIO STATION TITLE ARGUED

A hearing will be held next Friday in Common Pleas Court on the question of whether title to radio station KQV is involved in foreclosure proceedings under bonds of the Doubleday-Hill Electric Company, listed for yesterday and postponed until the hearing.

Judge George V. Moore granted an injunction temporarily restraining the sale on petition of Attorney Harry K. Siebeneck, representing the company, directed against the Union National Bank. Siebeneck said the company posted its bonds with the bank as security for notes on loans obtained from the bank but that his understanding was that the security included real estate, fixtures and machinery of the company but not the stock of KQV obtained by the electric company several years ago in a mortgage transaction.

Hindenburg Cuts Government Cost

POLICE BULLET FELLS YOUTH IN CHASE

Radio Cruiser Overtakes Pair Suspected as Auto Thieves; Comrade Escapes

One of two alleged automobile thieves was shot down by a patrolman's bullet after a police radio cruiser overtook the suspects' car in a wild chase through East Liberty's business district during which a dozen shots were fired early today.

With a bullet that tipped through his back and lodged in his lung, James McAfee, 18, of 413 Aiken avenue is near death in the West Penn Hospital. To detectives' questioning, he replied only that he hoped he would die.

COMPANION ESCAPES

His companion, who police say is Gerald Brennen, of 1841 Jancey street, escaped when the suspects leaped from their moving machine at Penn avenue and Beatty street. Police were seeking him.

After heading their car, which police charge was stolen, into the path of the officers, the youths alighted and fled.

Patrolman Corcoran, who had followed the injured suspect, removed him to the hospital. Meanwhile McAfee's companion escaped. Patrolman William Harrison Corcoran's partner in the radio car.

According to the officers, the machine used by McAfee and his companion is owned by Elizabeth Stivern, of 5023 Frew street, and was stolen last midnight from North Sheridan avenue.

CAR RECOGNIZED

The radio car, attached to Forty-third Street Station, recognized the car in Hillcrest street. When the officers hailed it near Penn avenue, the driver shot the machine forward and the chase was on.

The flight of the suspects continued at a fast clip down Penn avenue to Atlantic avenue, across Liberty avenue and in Center avenue to Highland avenue. At Penn avenue the car swung into Beatty street, where the officers succeeded in blocking it. The police were firing at the fleeing car as it dashed recklessly through traffic signals, narrowly avoiding collision with other cars.

As Corcoran leaped from his car at Beatty street, he said he was nearly struck by the other machine.

'Dead' Man Admits Blame in Marital Confusion

CLEVELAND, April 1. (AP)—Confession that he was the man who was declared legally dead by the wife he deserted in Syracuse, N. Y., 15 years ago, has been obtained, police today said, from Fred D. Howell, 60. Howell, who since has remarried here, was charged with bigamy.

Nelson W. Potts, superintendent of the criminal investigation department, quoted Howell as saying:

"I didn't like the way she acted, so I left her. That's all there is to it."

Shot by Stranger Roomer Tells Police

Shot by a stranger as he opened the door of his room, early today, he told police, Frank E. Cross, 45, a roomer on the second floor of 316 West North avenue, was in the Allegheny General Hospital with a bullet wound in his hip. Police said they were investigating Cross' story.

The Pittsburgh Hikine Club will have its weekly hike Sunday from Fleming Park to Coraopolis, leaving downtown Pittsburgh on the Sewickley car at 1:30, and riding to the end of the first fare zone.

JOB RELIEF AIM OF CANDIDATE

William L. Brown, of Tarentum, candidate of the Legislature from the Thirteenth District, has issued a statement declaring he is in favor of legislation that will solve the problems confronting the state. He averred:

"There must be legislation to relieve unemployment and to aid our destitute people. Pennsylvania is one of the richest states in the Union. Surely with good common sense legislation we will be able to solve these problems.

"I am in favor of repealing all laws that do not fit in with our present-day standard of living. Also all laws which our best citizens constantly violate without hurting their consciences."

Brown said further that he favored legislation for old age pensions, state soldiers' bonus, fair public utility rates, permanent registration of voters, lower taxes, especially on homes, relief for the farmer and protection of bank deposits.

Fight Dry, Blue Laws In Legislature Race

Repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, the state enforcement act and the blue laws is advocated by Squire James C. McFarland, of West Deer Township, in announcing his candidacy for the Legislature from the Thirteenth District. He declared:

"I am satisfied that the prohibition situation as it exists today is an absolute failure. I consider the blue laws antiquated. I am in favor of curbing public utilities in regard to rates."

Spann, Maloney Get Labor Indorsement

Secretary James F. Kelley, of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, has announced that his organization has indorsed the candidacies of Assemblymen Max J. Spann for another term as representative from the Fifth District, and Patrick Maloney from the Third District. Kelley declared the indorsement was based on the assemblymen's stand on labor bills during the last session of the Legislature.

LARGE UTILITY PROFITS GROW

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—(AP)—The fiftieth annual report of the United Gas Improvement Company, showing the operations of this big utility holding corporation from 1931, states that, "Considering the condition of business, the results shown by the subsidiaries have been satisfactory, and in some cases better than might have been expected."

The income of the company alone, which is made up of receipts from dividends, interest and miscellaneous sources and without undistributed earnings of subsidiaries, amounted to $1.33 per share outstanding December 31, 1931. In 1930 the income amounted to $1.30 a share.

The report shows the operating revenues of utility subsidiaries amounted to $105,682,308, compared with $108,265,879 for 1930, but that, notwithstanding this decrease, the balance of these subsidiaries' earnings applicable to United Gas Improvement Company increased from $25,828,606 to $26,009,057, a result due in large measure to a decrease in operating expenses of $2,233,241.

BLUE LAW FOES SEEK OFFICE

Candidates for the Independent Republican nomination for the four members of the Legislature from the Twelfth District have issued a joint statement declaring they stand for repeal of the blue laws and the substitution of local option on the question of Sunday observance.

The candidates are R. L. Thompson, of Mt. Lebanon; J. R. Herring, of the Thirty-second Ward, Pittsburgh, formerly Overbrook Borough; H. C. A. Hofacker, of Coraopolis, and E. L. Bladel, of Crafton. They stated:

"The issue as we see it is akin to that presented by the home rule legislation which would permit cities to decide for themselves if they desire the city manager form of government. Self-government is the American ideal and that ideal is vitiated as long as problems which belong to municipalities are made political footballs by organized minorities log-rolling in the Legislature."

WOMEN ENLIST TO AID FAMILY RELIEF DRIVE

Kiski Student Wins Airplane Trip Contest

POLITICS

April Dawns—Month Of Primary and——

—By MARK SHIELDS—

Mr. Shields

Today being what it is, here's a column pertinent to the calendar and in the spirit of the date. Read it to the finish.

Gov. Pinchot, who some months ago appointed Howard Neely a deputy attorney general through the influence of Senator James J. Coyne, then some days ago fired Mr. Neely, is planning to reappoint Mr. Neely despite the break between the Governor and Coyne, politics being benevolent that way.

Gen. Smedley Butler, candidate for the U. S. Senate today pledged himself not to use "hell" or "damn" in any future radio broadcasts during the campaign.

County Commissioner C. M. Barr and Senator Coyne planned a conference on joint action for the election of legislative candidates, including state senators.

Senator William D. Mansfield, who also is County Commissioner William D. Mansfield, as well as Republican County Chairman William D. Mansfield, is planning to resign from two of his positions.

Friends of Mr. Mansfield protested his plan to resign two of his positions, claiming that this would perform the superhuman feat of adding two men in one identity to the unemployed roll.

Senator James J. Davis announced that he was not worried about the result of the election, any more than he was two years ago, and positively would make no extensive campaign in Pennsylvania, remaining in Washington in attendance on the Senate sessions.

* * *

One Democratic Wing Already Cleaned Up

Three large potential campaign contributors were denied entrance to regular Republican headquarters in William Penn Hotel, being told the organization did not wish to spend any money in this fight.

Mayor Kline is giving no thought to his trial at Butler, and will devote all his time to campaigning for the regular organization ticket.

Former Gov. John S. Fisher is planning a speaking tour in behalf of Auditor General Charles A. Waters, candidate for state treasurer.

Dr. Homer Tope, of the Anti-Saloon League in Pennsylvania, is reported to have formed an alliance with Democratic State Chairman John Collins to push the candidacy of Al Smith as a presidential preference from Pennsylvania over Gov. Roosevelt, of New York.

Democratic County Chairman David L. Lawrence and Maj. E. Lowry Humes have joined forces to clean up the Democratic party in Allegheny County, the Independent Republicans having cleaned up one wing of it last November.

Republican State Chairman Edward Martin pledged the strength of the regular Republican delegates to the national convention to Gov. Pinchot for President.

Gen. Martin pleaded with the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature, promising organization legislators would approve any program Pinchot devised, including the right to hire and fire Public Service Commissioners.

* * *

Imagine Situations Such as This—Can You!

County Commissioners Charles C. McGovern and William D. Mansfield have reorganized the county board, with Commissioner Barr in the humble seat.

McGovern plans to recommend James F. Malone for reappointment to the Pinchot cabinet, and hopes for success.

Judge Joseph Stadtfeld thanked politicians, regulars and independents, for all they have done to him—and hopes they don't do any more.

State employes were told by P. S. Stahlnecker, secretary to Gov. Pinchot, that under no conditions should they contribute to the campaign fund of the Independent ticket.

Frank Phillips, president of the Duquesne Light Company, applauded the fight of Gov. Pinchot against excessive utility rates, becoming so enthusiastic he plans to declare a flat reduction of 20 per cent in electric charges.

Judge William M. Parker, of Venango County, repudiated both Gov. Pinchot and Bill Vare, declaring they had entered into a deal to put him on the Superior Court bench, a disgraceful bargain.

Three men offered county jobs by McGovern and Barr turned them down. Twelve thousand more said they expected no appointments, and believed all old employes should be retained.

And now, if you have read this far, as requested, you may realize that the above statements are not facts, though they would be news, and that this is APRIL FOOLS' DAY.

'HA! YOU APRIL FOOL!'

MONKEY BUSINESS AT THE ZOO ON THIS FAIR APRIL FIRST

Mr. Lion and Pals Paged in Vain by April 1 Funsters

There was monkey business at the zoo today. Nothing but.

The telephone bell began jingling early and the conversations ran like this:

"Is this Highland 0636?"

"Yes, this is 0636."

"Well, I want to speak to Mr. Bear. He left a call for me."

Or maybe it was for Mr. or Mrs Camel or Mr. Lion or Miss Ella Phant.

All inquirers, of course, were victims of some practical joker on this, April fool's day.

The telephone calls finally got on the nerves of Arnold Schaumann, head keeper. He put the monkey at the phone for several calls, then issued this edict:

"This is a lot of monkey business. No more telephone calls are to be answered today."

N. Y. TO VOTE ON RELIEF

ALBANY, N. Y., April 1.—(AP.)—Gov. Roosevelt today signed a bill calling for a referendum on a $30,000,000 bond issue, the funds to be used for the relief of unemployment in New York State for the remainder of this year and all of 1933.

The proposed bond issue will be submitted to the voters at the general election next November. If the referendum is favorable the funds will be available on November 15.

The emergency unemployment relief commission, created at a special session of the Legislature last September, would administer the expenditure of $25,000,000 for unemployment relief.

County Health Head, Dr. Conover Resigns

Dr. John B. Conover, for seven years medical director of Allegheny County under direction of the State Health Department, has resigned, it was learned at his office today. He has been active in correcting unsanitary conditions in many outlying districts and participated in many conferences with borough and township officials to that end.

DETROIT FLIGHT TO BE MADE TUESDAY

John J. Daub, Jr., a 16-year-old schoolboy of Saltsburg, Pa., is the winner of the airplane flight from Pittsburgh to Detroit and return, as the guest of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, the National Aircraft Exposition and the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Out of the mass of answers to a series of questions on aviation, its history and development, young Daub's papers were rated the highest, as he had the largest number of correct or nearly correct answers. The contest for this unique tour by air was recently conducted by the Sun-Telegraph. Boys from 15 to 20 were eligible.

EXPERTS ACT AS JUDGES

The board of judges which examined the answers and selected the winner included Earl E. Voelter, manager of the Curtis-Wright Airport at Bettis Field; Fred W. Boland, director of trade training of the Pittsburgh public schools, and Allan A. Blaisdell, associate professor of mechanical engineering at Carnegie Tech.

The winner will start the flight from Pittsburgh next Tuesday at 11:30 a. m. on a transport plane of the Pennsylvania Airlines, arriving at Cleveland at 12:50 p. m. Hopping off again at 1:20 p. m., the winner arrives at Detroit at 2:45 p. m.

He will stay in Detroit until Friday as the guest of the National Aircraft Exposition, which opens tomorrow, and while there will be personally conducted through the exposition, will make a 60-mile flight over the city and will also be given an automobile tour sightseeing through Detroit, including the Ford automobile plant. He leaves Detroit by plane next Friday at 2:15 p. m. and arrives in Pittsburgh at 5:45 p. m.

FORMER PITTSBURGHER

The winner is the son of John J. Daub, former Pittsburgher, a graduate of Princeton and registrar of the Kiskiminetas Preparatory School at Saltsburg, in which John, Jr., is a senior. His mother is a graduate of Vassar.

The younger Daub has hopes of going to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, for which he passed the entrance examination last January. He said:

"I enjoyed the aviation contest because it made me dig for a lot of information worth knowing. At the same time I had my heart set on winning the contest and I am mighty happy in my success."

No expense or effort will be spared in making the winner's trip the event of a life-time. He will be protected by an insurance policy that runs into five figures, paid for by the Sun-Telegraph.

OHIO PASSES JOBLESS AID

COLUMBUS, O., April 1.—(AP.)—Enacted into law by the Ohio Legislature, Gov. White's $23,500,000 program for relief of the unemployed today needed only his signature to become effective. The special session of the Legislature concluded early today.

Shoulder to shoulder with the Democratic minority, which is the Governor's own party, the Republican majority forced through the program of the Chief Executive with only a few alterations.

The program provides for the diversion of several million dollars for county and city relief work from gasoline and motor vehicle taxes; establishment of a five-member state relief committee appointed by the Governor; the liberalizing of the authority of school boards in extending relief to needy school children and the increase of the excise taxes on public utilities, except railroads and pipe lines, by one per cent for a five-year period for relief purposes.

Seek Man's Return On Stabbing Charge

District Attorney Arch DeCastrique, of Beaver County, accompanied by county authorities, was in Washington today to arrange for the return of Lee Brown, 40, Negro, Aliquippa, sought in the fatal stabbing of James Milner, 40 Negro, of 181 Hopewell avenue, Aliquippa, during a quarrel.

County Detective Fred Rhoades and Police Sergt. W. W. Honn, of Aliquippa, accompanied Attorney DeCastrique.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 1.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Congress turned down the sales tax, claiming that it was unconstitutional, undemocratic and even unhealthy, that it was a tax on the poor in favor of the rich. Then they put a tax on matches. Well, I never saw a poor man that didn't at one time during his life, no matter how poor, have to light a match. Got a tax on candy, but not on crude oil from Venezuela. You see, these taxes that they are voting now, they are not sales taxes. No! No! Entirely different: Just taxes on things you have to buy.

Yours, WILL.

Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread—

The vision of the 28,000 impoverished families in Allegheny County invades the sacred and cherished seclusion of every home. That is the thought symbolized by Norwood MacGilvary, one of America's foremost artists and a member of the art faculty of Carnegie Tech, in this, the fifth of a series of illustrations made exclusively for the Sun-Telegraph.

The prayers for food by these patient thousands of destitute families must be answered soon by the sympathetic thousands of families in this community that are able to extend help.

Be ready to sacrifice that you may say "yes" when the representatives of the Harris Family-Help-Family Association call upon you.

Salesman, Formerly Prosperous, Out of Work, Forced to Accept Aid

Business Vanishes, Unable to Pay His Rent

For 20 years Mr. O—— has been a traveling salesman, covering the territory of eight states. He had been extremely successful, and from his earnings had built a home and put two of his children partly through college.

But, the last three years, growing worse each year, have virtually put the whole family "on the rocks." The family automobile, in which Mr. O—— covered his territory, has been sold, the home has been sold, and all savings have been used up. Bill, the oldest son, who quit college to take a small job, has been out of a job for a month because of illness.

Mr. O—— still makes from 15 to 20 calls a day, on foot, seeking orders, but each day's work is in vain. Mr. O—— used to talk technically about "sales resistance"—he has since learned what real sales resistance is.

The rent has not been paid for the last 10 months, and it is only on account of an indulgent, but impoverished, landlord that the family is allowed to remain in its present home. Nevertheless, the family finally accepted help only with the understanding that it would repay all assistance given.

The trouble is that, with the Emergency Association fund at an end, no further help can be given by any agency unless new funds are subscribed.

If you were to meet Mr O—— in an elevator, you would never guess his story. He looks like an average, well-dressed clerk. It is true that his clothes are somewhat shiny and a little threadbare but he has kept himself scrupulously neat, and steadfastly refused to ask for help until all other avenues were closed. He said:

"Personally, I am grateful for all that has been done for me, and if there is any inadequacy in relief funds, it is possibly the inability of many people to realise the terrible condition in which so many thousands are existing today, and the patience with which they bear their misfortunes."

On the Emergency Association roster, the O—— family is listed as No. 3136—just one of the 28,000 families on the list.

Emergency Funds Gone, Family Faces Crisis

Throngs Hear Cox In McKees Rocks

The Rev. James R. Cox, of Old St. Patrick's Church, was the principal speaker at a community meeting in Ruthenian Hall last night. He addressed nearly 3,000 persons who filled the auditorium and stood in the street and heard his message over amplifiers. Dr. Joseph G. Steegle, legislator, and M. L. Caplan, a McKees Rocks merchant, also spoke.

WEALTHY URGED TO CARE FOR DESTITUTE

28,000 Depend on Success Of Harris Campaign for Life Necessities Here

Women of Allegheny County today swung their support to the family-help-family campaign of Senator Frank J. Harris. Mrs. F. C. Irish has been placed in charge of the various women's committees. She and a committee of prominent women will work along with business leaders to raise funds for relief for the 28,000 families left destitute when the funds of the Allegheny County Emergency Association ran out.

Taylor Allderdice, chairman of the advance guard of the campaign, today declared that the success of the plan depends upon the willingness of well-to-do Pittsburghers to give to the utmost of their ability, and not to be content with caring for merely one family. He said that men and women who can afford it must realise that each must provide care for 50, 100, 500, or 1,000 or even more families. Senator Harris joined Allderdice in the statement.

WORKERS ENLISTED

Two colonels in the brigade of workers commanded by D. M. Craig have recruited their lists of captains to full strength. J. A. Warfel has enlisted John D. Ralston, Leroy D. Mitchell, A. Cameron Mann, D. K. Ballard and James T. Castle. R. D. King has enrolled as captains R. C. Wickersham, L. H. Collingwood, C. B. Gibson, R. D. Baker and R. L. Cox.

It was announced today that the Federation of Social Agencies of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, the Rotary Club and the League of Women Voters had indorsed the drive. Many other organizations throughout the city and county also are taking active interest in the move.

The drive will officially open at a breakfast in William Penn Hotel April 7 and it is hoped that plans will be completed to broadcast the breakfast addresses.

SPEAKING CAMPAIGN

A corps of men and women speakers has been organized, under the direction of Alex P. Lindsay, chairman of speakers, to explain the plan to various organizations in the county and over the radio.

Speaking in behalf of the plan today will be Dr. Joseph G. Stee-

Pinchot's Own Relief Group Urges Special Session

A special session of the Legislature to enact employment relief measures was asked of Gov. Pinchot by his own Pittsburgh unemployment commission, C. V. Shoup, secretary of the Allied Boards of Trade, told the Women's Republican Club of Aspinwall last night.

Shoup said the Allegheny County Employment Commission at a meeting March 24 adopted a resolution calling upon the Governor for action. Shoup declared he attended the meeting in the absence of Harry Baslon, president of the allied trades body.

The commission, which was instituted by Gov. Pinchot, with Edgar Kaufmann at its head, called Pinchot's attention to the exhaustion of the Allegheny County Emergency Association's funds and gave an account of pending efforts to relieve the unemployment situation here, Shoup said.

Shoup said a resolution was added to the report asking the Governor to confer with civil, relief and political leaders concerning an equitable tax plan and relief program and use their recommendation as a basis of his call for a special session.

COYNE VISITS ATTERBURY; DAVIS HERE

By MARK SHIELDS

While Senator James J. Davis was in Pittsburgh today conferring with his campaign manager, Register of Wills Joseph N. Mackrell, State Chairman Edward Martin, State Senator Harry E. Scott of Center County and other leaders, State Senator James J. Coyne, general barnstormer of the Regular Republican campaign in this section, was in Philadelphia for a meeting with Gen. W. W. Atterbury, former national committeeman and a power in Pennsylvania Republican politics.

The purpose behind the meeting of Atterbury and Coyne was not disclosed. Gossip here was that the railroad chief wished to discuss western conditions with the Pittsburgher, with whom he never has been close politically. Since the time he became more than a ward leader, Coyne has been friendly to former Senator Joseph R. Grundy and Gov. Gifford Pinchot, until this campaign when he broke with both.

Now Coyne is associated with the state organization and the Philadelphia wing of the Republican party and aligned against the Pinchot Independent ticket. Atterbury, it is understood, is trying on behalf of the Philadelphia organization to perfect a close combination throughout the state and will impress upon Coyne the advisability of co-operating with politicians here who heretofore have been allied with the eastern wing of the party.

Davis this morning spoke before students at Peabody High School after having a breakfast conference with his supporters in the Duquesne Club. Further conferences were to be held during the afternoon and tonight Davis will address Dallas Lodge F. & A. M.

City and county relief was in full force today as the county caught its stride with the city in giving direct relief to the 28,000 families. Both the city's six relief stations and the county relief agencies dug deeply into the funds made available both by the city and county.

RELIEF PLEAS INCREASE

Wednesday the city relief stations gave out 1,895 individual grocery orders and, added to other forms of relief, spent about $9,000 during the day. This is a considerable increase over the demands made at the city stations earlier in the week. In addition to giving out grocery orders, agencies working under the Board of County Poor Directors are providing coal for the needy.

William P. Witherow, chairman of the Thrift Garden Committee of the Emergency Association, at a meeting last night announced that 40 acres of land for gardens is available in South Park.

The committee has opened headquarters at 816 Grant street for registering persons who desire garden plots to work during the summer. Preference is being given to applicants who are unemployed. The land is plowed free, seeds are provided, and there will be supervision, policing and instruction in caring for the crops.

TRANSIT BOARD TO CONFER ON SUBWAY

Parley With Brown Over Snodgrass Program Set; Cost Estimates Offered

The City Transit Commission will go into conference tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock with Norman F. Brown, engineer, who has designed the subway plan presented to City Council recently by Edward Snodgrass, Jr.

Cost estimates will be discussed. Heads of the City Department of Public Works will be present.

Public utility conduits under the streets on the route of the proposed subway would have to be changed at the expense of the corporations that own them, according to Brown.

An estimate of $5,500,000 for the cost of subway construction made by Brown includes enough money to change water and sewer lines, he declared.

MAY AVOID LINES

Other equipment, such as steam, electric, gas and telephone lines is under the street by sufferance, Brown declared, and must be moved by the owner to make room for public improvements. However, a subway built in the middle of the street will avoid most of the lines, Brown said.

Winters Haycock, Transit Commission engineer, and Charles M. Reppert, chief city engineer, are studying Brown's estimates following a conference yesterday.

I. W. Monteverde, chairman of the City Planning Commission, declared that it is important to carry on the wharf improvement plan at the same time as the subway construction, as he believes the material excavated from the subway could be used in filling in behind wharf walls.

WHARF WORK PLEA

An improvement of the water front would add about 35 acres of useful property to the downtown district with a direct increase in value of about $5,000,000, Monteverde declared. This does not take into consideration the improvements which would take place on the waterfronts if an attractive level park could replace the sloping cobblestone wharves, he said.

The money for the wharf improvements should be furnished by the county, Monteverde said.

PENNSY OFFICIAL RETIRED

John B. Fisher, assistant to the general manager of the Central region of the Pennsylvania Railroad in Pittsburgh, is one of the 152 veteran workers of the company retired with pensions today. In 1926, Fisher was promoted to general superintendent of transportation of the Central region, and in 1930 was elevated to the position from which he retires. The retirement list includes 28 other men from the Central region.

ACT TO RETURN TITO SUSPECTS

Extradition papers were being prepared today for Alex Burns and Arthur Miller, both 25, who are under arrest in Cleveland in connection with the holdup in his home of Joseph Tito, 1817 Fifth avenue, Hill district political figure.

Tito, who was robbed of $600 and a diamond ring valued at $1,000, identified Bertillon pictures of the suspects and they were arrested in Cleveland yesterday at the request of Detective Inspector Frank R. Boyd. Cleveland police informed Boyd the two prisoners were fighting extradition and seeking release on a writ of habeas corpus.

The gunmen attempted to take Tito for a "ride," and failing, they held him up, police theorized. From Tito's wife they stole a pair of ear rings.

2 Students Turn Prison Into School

SALINA, Kan., April 1.—(AP)—Stone walls and iron bars make a schoolhouse as well as a prison for Leroy Taylor and Verland Barr, Salina High School seniors. They are serving jail sentences for using other persons' cars in joyriding.

Desiring to keep up with their class and complete their high school course this year, the two are continuing their studies in jail at nights after working during the days under direction of county officials.

HUNT GIRL HERE IN THEFT CASE

Detectives today were seeking the sweetheart of Louis J. Sepack, 25, of Beaver Falls, being held in Beaver jail as a robbery suspect, in an effort to recover alleged stolen goods.

Pittsburgh authorities were asked to aid in the case after Sepack, according to Beaver police, admitted numerous robberies here and in the Beaver Valley to obtain money for the entertainment of his sweetheart, said to be a Pittsburgh girl.

Sepack was arrested shortly after he had held up William Leiper, of Beaver, police said. In his pocket, according to the officers, a watch, stolen from the Rev. John M. Hempstead, of Beaver Falls, was found.

RENO SPENDER KILLS SELF

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—(AP)—Police today expressed the belief Leo M. Harkins, 30, heir to a $300,000 Honolulu fortune, shot and killed himself here yesterday because lavish spending in Reno, Nev., had exceeded his income.

Officers who arrested Harkins Wednesday at the request of Nevada authorities, said he told them he went to Reno with $9,000, and one party alone cost $4,000.

August 10, 1931, he filed suit for divorce in Reno against Mrs. Caroline Balding Harkins, a niece of Mrs. Edward M. Lewis, wife of the retired major general. The suit later was dismissed. Harkins was a former regimental sergeant-major of the 27th Infantry, United States Army.

DEPUTIES SET FOR TROUBLE AT MINES

Held in Readiness After Arrest of Union Leader Brings Threat of Violence

A force of deputy sheriffs was held in readiness today to cope with trouble in the various mining towns of the county in the event of a strike demonstration.

The arrest of Frank Borich, 32, national secretary of the National Miners Union, by United States immigration authorities last evening was expected to arouse members of that organization. Borich was arrested in the union's headquarters at 413 Fourth avenue.

The federal officers said he is an alien, and his activities have been Communistic. He was committed to jail in $5,000 bail pending deportation proceedings.

MINE GUARDED

This morning 15 deputies, under Chief Deputy Sheriff B. V. Coffey, were rushed to the Montour No. 10 mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company at Library, when it was reported there was to be a demonstration. No trouble occurred during a four-hour wait, and the deputies returned to Pittsburgh.

Members of the National Miners' Union said there would be a demonstration on May 1.

Following the arrest Ben Barnard, secretary to Borich, said the national board immediately passed a resolution to mobilize miners all over the country for the defense of Borich, who, according to government officers, had been engaged in radical activities in coal fields in Western and Southwestern Pennsylvania and in other states, and returned recently from Illinois.

W. H. Marshall, director of immigration service in Pittsburgh, said it was not a raid on the headquarters, and the officers with the warrant only went there for the purpose of serving it on Borich. He denied an assertion by union officers that papers were confiscated.

Borich was said by government officers to be a Croatian who came to this country from Jugoslavia in 1913. They also said that he admitted being an alien.

MOBILIZE FOR DEFENSE

Secretary Barnard said:

"The federal officers not only arrested Borich but they raided our offices at 413 Fourth avenue without a search warrant and confiscated documents and letters during a meeting of our national board.

"The national board immediately passed a resolution to mobilize miners all over the country for the defense of Borich. We will go the limit for him.

"When the federal men broke into the office the national board was considering the strike situation in Kentucky, Eastern Ohio and Illinois and were considering the situation in Western Pennsylvania, where several requests already have been made of the National Miners' Union to conduct strikes."

Simultaneously with the opening of the show, at 2:30 p. m., a dozen bombs will be exploded in the Schenley Oval.

Kentucky Mines' Power Line Bombed

PROVIDENCE, Ky., April 1.—(AP.)—Dynamite blasts wrecked 10 electric power poles leading to coal mines during the night and early today, leaving the town in darkness. The explosions added to the thousands of dollars' damage wrought in lawlessness through labor troubles in Webster and adjoining counties since the strike of 1930.

The dynamiting last night was attributed by officials to renewal of the labor troubles resulting from a strike of union coal miners in Illinois started yesterday.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

Those hospital attendants in Nassau were so indifferent. You probably get that way, handling and assisting the minor thrills to snap them out of the monotony. The blinding rainstorm was responsible, of course. But if it weren't for those attendants, any pretty woman might have been stranded there . . . and the motorist who felled her. And so they helped her to the hospital to be . . . Of all things . . . one of us breathlessly urged the . . . to do that was the response. So . . . to lift her on to the stretcher and . . . The pay-off came a few moments . . . Lieutenant late, identified as . . . his sassiest tones and disciplined . . . As if that mattered. Even the . . . after several seasons of peace—a Federal man who had himself a time of it closing up nearly all the Broadway hot-spots—will get his due. For he was indicted after they found him out, and nothing came of that indictment. So one of the rackets will inquire why . . . And he will learn that influence is what most of us think we have . . . till we try to use it. Wonder what's become of all those university professors who braved for the spotlight and got it with their attention-for-attention's stunts. The ridicule that followed probably melted their hair. Victor Hugo thought that the bee did not sting to its honey-making for its sting. I like that legend I heard last night. About the lad who "is on everything" and told a gathering that the reason Winchell quotes the masters a lot is that he never had much education and wants readers to think he isn't illiterate. What newspaper office hasn't a copy of Bartlett's Quotations? It is good to see one of the echoes to hand to get away from the formula a little—by omitting the punctuation angle. Wonder what the next big newspaper story will be.

Funny how melodies appeal as the years unfold. In 1925 Berlin's "Venetian Isles" published as a waltz wasn't as popular as the usual Berlin chune. Now seven years later, masquerading under the title "I'll Miss You In The Evening" and decorated with a new set of words—it is the most fascinating of the rhythms on the airwaves. . . . "God Save The King" was composed by Lulli for the chorus of either "Athalie" or "Esther". . . . The minor poets wrote the great national songs. . . . And they will tell you that "Annie Rooney" and "Down Went McGinty" were thefted from Bach. Abbe Gallani, when asked his opinion of Mlle. Arnould's vocalizing, said: "It is the finest asthma I ever heard"—but I like best what Moore said when he was asked if he liked classical music. . . . "There is no other music," he roared. . . . And one that will speed the rounds is about the near-sighted woman who said to her host: "How did you ever win that loving cup?" . . . "That," barked the man, "is a picture of Clark Gable!"

Destroyer Inspires Screen Drama

"The Destroyer," Harry Hervey's picturesque story of romance and adventure among the Navy's trouble boats, has been selected by Columbia Pictures as the latest offering in its group of special productions which included "Submarine," "Flight" and "Dirigible."

Written by one of America's most colorful writers, author of the current success "Shanghai Express," the new vehicle will be built along the same lavish lines as these former productions. It deals with an entirely novel angle of the military service and what is considered one of its most thrilling branches.

Fickle Girl Is Fulton Heroine

By CLARENCE F. GRUNDISH

Again the fickle-minded heroine is with us.

This time in the person of Carole Lombard, she is seen in "No One Man," new picture in the Fulton. It is based on the Rupert Hughes novel.

There isn't anything especially original in this story of a wealthy girl who is inconsistent as a Cleopatra.

Divorced from one man, she wakes up a license clerk in the middle of the night to marry another one, and when the third man appears on the scene, she marries him, instead.

Husband No. 2 played with all of Ricardo Cortez's gigolo finesse also is only an interlude. And to bring the picture to its happy conclusion, he must be eliminated from the scene entirely. So in comes Mr. Heart Failure, old standby of dramatists and story-tellers since the days when the Greeks had a word for everything.

Well, upon the death of Husband No. 2, Heroine Lombard has a change of mind, evidentally seeing the error of her ways, or something like that. She becomes a nurse and stays on the job for 10 months, until a polite and gracious doctor, who has loved her all the time, asks her to be a doctor's wife.

Paul Lukas portrays the doctor. It is the type of role he does so well. When that sad, drowsy shepherd dog look comes into his eyes, audiences are on his side at once. Mr. Lukas has the knack of making his characters appear sincere.

The willowly Juliette Compton, the gushing Virginia Hammond, the comfortably-stout George Barbier and the Andy Clyde-ish Irving Bacon are in the supporting cast.

Importation!

Hollywood's newest foreign importation is Renate Muller, German comedienne, whose first American-made film is "The Office Girl," soon to be released.

Walter Huston Plays Banker in Film

Walter Huston has been signed by Columbia Pictures to play the lead in the first production to be directed by Allan Dwan for the company. The vehicle, as yet untitled, is a highly dramatic story of the romance and financial intrigue surrounding a prominent metropolitan bank in the current economic pressure, with Huston cast in the role of a banker.

Jack Holt Returns To Hollywood

Following a brief visit to Washington, D. C., Jack Holt, Columbia Pictures' star, has returned to Hollywood and will shortly start work on a new starring vehicle now being prepared for the screen by Robert Presnell. Holt flew to the National Capital to visit his mother, who was seriously ill at the time, but who is well on the road to recovery.

Spanish Dancer Here For First Time

The dances of Vicente Escudero, Spanish gypsy who will perform at the Nixon tomorrow night, are deeply rooted in the soil of Spain, especially the region where gypsies live, love, brawl and dance in the sunlight on the village square. At the age of 9 Escudero, from near Granada, was dancing in public squares and at fiestas with an itinerant gypsy troupe. He went to Paris seven years ago. He has danced to 14 capacity houses in New York this season, his first in America. His two female partners, from Madrid, Carmita and Carmela, will assist him.

CHEVROLET REDUCES PRICES

AND ISSUES AN IMPORTANT STATEMENT OF POLICY FOR 1932

The leader always leads in giving value. Chevrolet—world's largest builder of cars for three out of the past five years—now takes pleasure in announcing substantial price reductions on the new Chevrolet Six.

These reductions are being announced on the eve of the national exhibits of General Motors products which, opening tomorrow in the leading cities of the country, will feature special displays of various Chevrolet models.

The revised scale of Chevrolet prices now starts with a base price of $445, f. o. b. Flint, Mich. This is the lowest figure at which a Chevrolet passenger car has ever sold.

QUALITY WILL BE MAINTAINED

The new Chevrolet Six is the same well-known product that was introduced to the public only a short time ago—and immediately won such a wide following. It offers you the built-in smoothness, quietness and flexibility that can only be achieved along with maximum economy in a six-cylinder engine. It offers that matchless driving combination—silent, non-clash syncro-mesh gear-shifting combined with free wheeling. It offers big, spacious Fisher bodies—styled gracefully long and low—and built of wood and steel—the same construction used on practically all high-priced cars today. It offers the same modern spring construction used in costly cars—four long, semi-elliptic springs, mounted parallel to the frame, and equipped with hydraulic shock absorbers. In addition, the new Chevrolet Six possesses the same basic design and construction that millions of Chevrolet owners have proved in billions of miles of service. Its dependability, durability and economy are known quantities.

BUY A CHEVROLET AND DRIVE IT TODAY

THE SIX WILL BE CONTINUED

In making this announcement of new lower prices—Chevrolet issues an important statement of policy:

Chevrolet will keep on building a Six. Our recently announced Six has met with such widespread approval that it is our intention to continue with a six-cylinder engine.

Chevrolet pioneered the Six in the field of low-priced automobiles, and today Chevrolet is more than ever convinced that a six-cylinder engine is the ideal type for a car of lowest price. The Six is the one type of engine that strikes a perfect balance of smooth performance and maximum economy.

With anything less than a Six, motoring enjoyment is sacrificed. For it is a well-known engineering fact that six cylinders are the fewest that can be used in a car and avoid inherent vibration. Anything more than six cylinders and Chevrolet's unexcelled economy would be sacrificed. Chevrolet has proved that a six-cylinder motor can be engineered to operate at lower cost than any other type. And Chevrolet is committed to the policy of providing the utmost in motoring enjoyment that can be secured along with economy of operation.

Before deciding on any new low-priced automobile—read over Chevrolet's new reduced prices, and compare them with the prices of any other cars in Chevrolet's field. Compare what you get for every dollar that you pay. Then, you cannot fail to recognize the significant fact that the Chevrolet Six is now, more than ever, the great American value.

"THIS IS not a very long story," writes Martha Borden of Los Angeles, "but I consider it one of the most interesting that has ever come to my attention.

"In a fast-going city in the Middle West the treasurer of the largest department store in town was also a director in the city's biggest bank. For a while the banks stood off the depression in some shape. But the assets began to dwindle and before anyone realized quite what had happened, a run was started.

Practical Hints for Good Health

Salmon Is a Nutritious and Wholesome Food

This food has a liberal supply of iodine, which is of great value in combating certain diseases.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Formerly Health Commissioner, New York City.

Salmon is consumed in greater quantity than any other fish. Its popularity is well deserved, for it is indeed a tempting and nutritious food.

We are assured of an abundant supply of salmon because of protective fishing laws. Due to timely intervention by the government there is no danger of this delicious fish becoming extinct.

Salmon may be purchased fresh or canned. As a canned food it leads all other canned products in its market demand.

The salmon is found in deep water where it thrives exceptionally well. When caught in deep sea water it often weighs between 30 and 100 pounds.

When Nature calls these fish to the spawning grounds the salmon undertakes a journey which is really a marvelous feat. They push up the rivers that empty into the sea. No obstacle can stop them. They will jump above and across boulders, charge rapids and often seem actually to fly in the air. If you have ever witnessed this spectacle you will never forget it.

Once the salmon enters fresh water they take no food. When they reach the spawning grounds they are wearied from the difficult journey and lack of food.

A BIG INDUSTRY

The canning of salmon has become one of the greatest industries in this country. Not only do the canneries supply the demands of home but they also ship large quantities to England, Canada and Australia.

Modern machinery has been invented to wash, clean, cut and place the salmon in cans. This process keeps the fish in excellent condition. It is often difficult to distinguish many of the canned salmon preparations from fresh fish.

Fish is properly substituted for meat. It contains all the elements found in meat. In addition the salmon has a liberal supply of iodine which is of great value in combating certain diseases.

NUTRITIOUS FOOD

Recent experimentation shows that the oil found in salmon and other fish is exceedingly rich in vitamin D. This vitamin is important in the development and maintenance of good health.

When strict budgeting of food is imperative fish is an item that should be considered. Salmon is a nutritious and wholesome food that is within the reach of the smallest budget. In addition it contains important elements necessary for proper nutrition.

When fish is served use it as a substitute for meat. Instead of an additional course to your meal make the salmon the chief feature of the meal.

SCALLOPED CABBAGE — 1½ cups spaghetti broken in small pieces, 3 tablespoons flour, 3 tablespoons butter or other fat, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ pound American cheese, 1 quart shredded cabbage, 1 cup bread crumbs.

Cook the spaghetti in boiling salted water for 20 minutes and drain. Make a sauce of the flour, fat, milk and salt. Shave up the cheese, add to the hot sauce and stir until melted. two together with two knives or rubbing together lightly with the tips of the fingers. When the blending is finished the appearance of the mixture should be like coarse cornmeal. Add the well beaten yolks, then the milk slowly, beating until the batter is smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff. Cut and fold whites into the batter. Add the flavoring and give the batter two or three extra stirs. (Anise flavoring is particularly nice when a chocolate icing is used on this cake.) Turn batter into buttered cake tins. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 30 minutes or until the cake just begins to loosen from the sides of the pan. When cool, spread with Chocolate Fudge Icing. Yield: Three layers.

It Is Foolish to Insist on Having the Last Word

Can two human creatures be happy together if each of 'em is determined to be the big noise?

Every [illegible] a clash [illegible] words [illegible] puts [illegible] a few [illegible] retaliatory [illegible] trum and [illegible]

But [illegible]

LOTS OF ARGUMENTS

"Dear Miss M...

"You [illegible] people [illegible] I thought [illegible] vice so, [illegible] It has [illegible] I don't [illegible]

"I am [illegible] engaged [illegible] Now [illegible] both [illegible] love will [illegible] don't get [illegible] at all. We are always having arguments.

"Now I realize [illegible] very much, and I think I show it, too. And I don't want [illegible] to get me wrong. He likes me, too, but what I can't stand is this:

"If we ever have an argument, I must give in first even if I am sure I am right. When we quarrel he is very rude to me—in front of other people, guests or anybody who happens to be around. He makes cutting remarks, hands me terrible slams, and does everything he can to make me feel in the wrong.

WANTS UPPER HAND

"When I tell him about it he says I am too sensitive and too easily hurt. Maybe I am, I don't know. But I do know that the way he acts hurts me terribly, and what I would like to know is how to get the upper hand of him. Should I pretend that I am indifferent or what?

"Please help me. I don't know what to do. But I do know that all this makes me simply wretched and I can't stand much [illegible]

DEMAND RESPECT

[illegible] SUSIE"

[illegible] you get the upper [illegible] [illegible] I mean I wouldn't [illegible] Why [illegible] essential [illegible] get the [illegible] of someone else [illegible] what you say, and [illegible] more wrangles and [illegible]

[illegible] that you [illegible] Bluffing [illegible] and [illegible] more [illegible] you. But it does mean that you must [illegible] for its futility and its rudeness. No, and it doesn't. But it does mean that if you ever expect to get along together, you'd both of you have to [illegible] the scales and [illegible] like regular humans.

[illegible] present you're both acting like a couple of 2-year-olds trying to prove you're right by showing a tantrum. You're actually not interested in finding out what is right. You're merely interested in putting something over on the other fellow.

Maybe I'm wrong, but I'm right here to tell you that it's the worst basis on earth and can't lead to anything but heartbreak and misery.

Then what can you do? You both have to realize that the other fellow has his own opinion and that is all about it.

You have to watch each of you that the other has a right to his opinion, whether it is right or wrong, and that includes you, has a right to his opinion, and then drop the other subject.

And another thing, yourself, you have to act more quietly and peaceably and tell that sweetie of yours that unless he can treat you with courtesy and respect you're through. Then give him the same courtesy and respect you demand for yourself and if that won't work—be through.

Fay King Finds First Nighters Too Diverting for Her to Enjoy the Play

By FAY KING.

A first night audience is often more interesting than the play. One sees all the celebrities and their satellites.

And one often sees better acting by those of the audience than by those on the stage or screen.

The best acting some ambitious young actresses will ever do is when they are trying to impress the manager or critic they have just met.

One sees excellent bits of high-hatting, and over-enthusiasm also.

And plenty of drama is enacted while they are trying to properly impress the director or critic they have just met.

Oh yes it's all very interesting—but personally I prefer to see a play most any other night. The actors seem more at ease and the audience more attentive.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Sound Mind Aids Bodily Health

Dr. Copeland

There are scientists who claim that thoughts are things. They contend that thoughts can actually be weighed and measured, that thoughts have color. They claim that these facts have been actually proved by tests in some of the universities.

It is certain that by dwelling upon thoughts of poverty, personal limitation, unhappiness or disease we erect barriers of negative thinking as the scientists say. We can never attain plenty, happiness or health if our thinking is wrong. We do not and cannot progress.

The truth is we can go no further than we consent to go. I wish you would write that down, and remember it. We can go no further than we will to go.

Is it not a fact that we imagine first and then produce? The artist does this, the musician, the writer, the architect and so on. How is it with you?

Through the mind we take command of ourselves. By correct thinking we tap the universal supply, the great substance, call it God, spirit, or whatever you may. We should train ourselves to think beyond food, shelter and clothing. We should exclaim "Build thou more stately mansions, Oh, my soul!"

Electricity, life and love are in the realm of which I am speaking. You cannot see these. You see their manifestations. But is there anything more real than electricity, life and love?

Since we exist in a world of sense, we are accustomed to saying that success depends largely upon the control we exercise over our physical senses such as seeing, hearing, smelling, tasting and touching. But there are finer senses which we must consider, such as scientific thought, intuition, telepathy, perhaps, and spiritual discernment.

I do not for a moment discount the importance of a sound body for the functioning of a sound mind, but I also know that it works the other way around. A sound mind is important for the functioning of a sound body.

In a way, blood is liquid life. Mind is the instrument which uses this liquid life as the dynamo is the instrument which uses electricity.

I am sure you believe that the power of mind can be used constructively in building, or destructively in tearing down just as electricity can be used for lighting and cooking—or for executions.

So we must order our living, not only with regard to the needs of the body, but also to make our minds operate sanely and wisely.

Household Hints

Don't pour boiling water over stacked dishes. You will crack some of them.

Don't blacken a stove while it is warm. It will only take more blackening and have less lustre.

To keep the color of white vegetables when cooking, add a little lemon juice or vinegar to the water in which they are cooked.

Don't forget to eat the lettuce with the salad. It is splendid for you and probably more of a nerve tonic than the rest of the salad.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

The Boy's 'Assistance'

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Some time ago I asked you to help me to solve a problem. You answered me . . . but the other day I couldn't convince my friends that you told me what you did tell me. And I had, in the meantime, lost the clipping of your column containing your answer to my question. So will you please answer it again, so that I may show your answer to my friends? This is the question:

When a boy is with two girls on which side does the boy walk? I say the boy should walk on the outside. My friends say that the boy walks between the two girls. SISTER.

We are really right, you and I, Sister . . . the boy walking with two girls walks on the side of the pavement nearest the curb. You see, the whole point about where the man walks when he is walking with women on the street is based on the idea of protection. If he walks on the side nearest the street, he is in the best position to be of assistance to the girls, if assistance is necessary.

But if he walks between the girls he will certainly be in the best position for them to give him assistance.

Church Contribution

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When a young man accompanies a young lady to church is he supposed to furnish her with money for the collection plate, or does each give his or her own offering?

DOUBTFUL.

The girl should make her own contribution, as the man makes his contribution. Giving of this kind is a personal matter, and when the other person gives, it can't be for us. We must do our own giving.

-:- The Beauty Box -:-

By HELEN FOLLETT

Dig with your brush into spaces between the teeth when you attend your mouth hygiene. Chemicals left by food deposits gather there and when they ferment they boil up elements that make for decay of dentine. When brushing the upper teeth point the bristles toward the gums, roll the toothbrush, sending the bristles downward between the teeth. Dentists know at a glance if a patient is a thorough or careless scrubber of teeth.

Dry skin is the head-liner in the list of complexion ills at this season of the year. Harsh winds and dry atmospheres in homes and offices throw the epidermis into a state of panic and causes it to moult feverishly. In some cases it is well to substitute a cleansing meal for soap, but all shredded faces require plenty of oil, either in the form of liquid cleaners or solid creams, left on over night for the arid cuticle to lap up.

No getting away with the new spring frock without the neatly molded back, the normal bust and a chest that doesn't do a slump-away. Perhaps present-day fashions will urge women on to do more exercising, keep their muscles firm and elastic. Deep breathing extends the walls of the chest, good posture creates the perfect back, builds that graceful streamline from waist to knee that is so important nowadays.

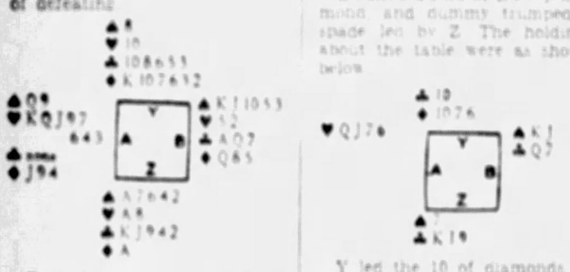
Contract Bridge -:-

OFFICIAL SYSTEM As Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

Rod Defensive Bidding

Defensive bidding is another bid of values held when penalized will cost less than permitting another player to obtain a contract. If not pushed too far, defensive bidding is excellent strategy. Avoid pushing such a bidding far enough to force opponents into a slam that may be made. The hand given below affords an example of sound defensive bidding followed by an unsound overbid that forced opponents into a small slam that A had no hope of defeating.



Z made an opening bid of 1-Spade. A made an excellent sacrifice declaration of 4-Hearts which Y and B passed, but Z shifted into a speculative bid of 5-Clubs. A should have passed that, and Y would not have raised the contract. A made the mistake of bidding 5-Hearts, without a single probable defensive trick in his hand, obliging Y to bid 6-Clubs which B doubled.

The opening lead was A's K of hearts. Z won with his Ace, led his Ace of diamonds and then had dummy trump a return lead of hearts. Upon a lead of Y's K of diamonds Z discarded a spade. Dummy ten of only spade. Z's Ace won the trick, dummy trumped a fourth lead of spades. A return lead of Y's eight of clubs was taken with B's Ace. Even if B had not won the trick while A showed out of trumps by discarding a heart, Z would have known that B held the missing Q. No seasoned player puts up his Ace of trumps second hand unless he wishes to conceal his possession of the Q.

Z ruffed a lead of B's top diamond and dummy trumped a spade led by Z. The holdings about the table were as shown below.

Y led the 10 of diamonds. B was trapped. If he trumped Z would outruff. If B discarded a spade so could Z. B decided to trump with his 7. Z won the trick with his 9 of clubs. A return lead of spades was ruffed with dummy's last club and another diamond was led. Z trumped with his J, led his K and picked up B's lone Q. The doubled small slam contract was fulfilled. All that A-B won was the trick taken by B's Ace of clubs.

This pushing opponents into games and slams continually takes place and is most expensive.

New Gloves

Don't put on gloves for the first time when in a hurry. Even if you do get them on without splitting they will never fit so well as when they are carefully put on, stretching the kid gently to conform with the lines of the hands.

A Bit More Room

Shelf space is always a joy in the kitchen. One woman has a drop shelf built, hinged on the window frame, and uses this as a small table. It is very convenient when clearing the table or when drying dishes.

your soap is going to waste · Waste

Don't let it . . . add Climalene wherever water is used for cleaning.

HARD water means hard work. It's the hardness . . . the mineral salts . . . in hard water that wastes soap because the soap cannot dissolve. Stop this waste! Add a teaspoon or two of Climalene to your washing water.

How It Works

Climalene cuts grease and softens the water instantly. Thus, only ¼ the soap is needed when you use Climalene. Then, it gently dissolves food stains, grease and dirt on dishes and in clothes. Thus you do your work in ¼ the time or less.

Get Climalene today from your grocer. Use it wherever you use water for cleaning, in the kitchen, laundry and bathroom. He has it in the bright, shiny, blue box, 12 ounces for 10c, or 2 pounds for 25c. The Climalene Company, Canton, Ohio.

* * *

FUDGE FROSTING—Two squares chocolate, 2 cups sugar, ½ cup milk, ¼ cup dark corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 tablespoons butter.

Cut chocolate and combine with sugar, milk and syrup, and cook until it forms a very soft ball when tried in cold water (234 degrees F.). Remove from fire, set pan in cold water, add butter and let stand until mixture thickens enough to stick to pan when tried with spoon. Add flavoring and beat until thick enough to spread on cake.

* * *

APRICOT SOUFFLE—Three-fourths cup apricot pulp, sugar, few grains salt, 3 egg whites. Heat apricot pulp (cooked or canned fruit, drained, and rubbed through sieve). Add sugar, if needed, and salt. Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold into the fruit pulp. Turn into greased individual molds—¾ full. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Prune Souffle: Use the recipe for apricot souffle, substituting prune pulp for the apricot pulp.

* * *

ORANGE DATE FILLING—One tablespoon butter, ¼ cup sugar, 2½ tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cup chopped dates, 1 egg yolk, ½ cup water, ½ cup orange juice, ½ teaspoon grated orange rind.

Melt the butter in the top part of a double boiler, stir in the sugar and cornstarch, then add the water, orange juice and grated rind. Stir over hot water until thick. Add slightly beaten egg yolk and the chopped dates and cook for 1 minute. Cool before spreading on cake.

Wash beans and soak 24 hours in 4 cups water. Add grated onion and simmer until tender, from 1 to 2 hours. Put through a sieve to make a puree. Make a white sauce of 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper and 2 cups of milk. Add the bean puree. Serve hot with cubes of toasted bread. Serves six.

* * *

Soak liver 5 minutes in cold water to cover. Lay bacon in cold frying pan. Heat slowly and cook until bacon is crisp. Remove bacon to warm place. Wipe liver with cloth. Sprinkle with flour, salt and paprika. Heat bacon fat remaining in frying pan and add and brown liver quickly. Cover with lid and cook liver until very tender when tested with fork. Remove to serving platter and surround with cooked crisp bacon.

Do not over cook liver or it will become tough and not easily digested. Liver is done when no blood shows when a fork is inserted.

* * *

COFFEE SOUFFLE—1 cup milk, 4½ tablespoons tapioca, 1 tablespoon ground coffee, dash of salt, ½ cup sugar, 3 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon colored, 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Scald the milk with coffee and strain immediately. Add tapioca and salt and cook 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar. Cool. Add egg yolks and fold in egg whites. Bake in greased baking dish, placed in hot pan of hot water in moderate oven 60 minutes. Serve with custard sauce. Serves six.

* * *

GRAPEFRUIT SALAD—2 cups diced grapefruit, 6 pieces lettuce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 4 tablespoons vinegar, ½ cup salad oil.

Chill grapefruit and lettuce. Mix rest of ingredients and beat 3 minutes with rotary beater. Chill. When ready to serve arrange grapefruit on lettuce and top with portions of dressing which has been beaten 1 minute.

* * *

OATMEAL HOT BREAD—2 cups cooked oatmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar or molasses, 1 egg, beaten, ½ cup milk, 3½ cups wheat flour, 5 teaspoons baking powder.

While the oatmeal is still hot stir in the sugar, and salt and let cool. Add rest of ingredients and knead five minutes. Bake in a moderate oven 1 hour and 15 minutes.

* * *

SOUR MILK CORNBREAD—2 cups cornmeal, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1½ cups sour milk, ½ cup flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 egg, 4 tablespoons shortening.

Mix and sift cornmeal, flour, salt, soda and baking powder. Add well-beaten egg to the sour milk and stir into the dry ingredients. Melt shortening in a shallow baking pan and pour into the mixture. Now pour the batter into the baking pan and bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees for 20 to 30 minutes, depending on the thickness of the cornbread.

* * *

LAMB CHOPS AND PEAS MADRID—Fry 8 lamb chops, remove them from the pan, and make a gravy by thickening the meat juice with a little flour, stirring constantly until the consistency is smooth. Pour the contents of a No. 2½ can of peas into the frying pan with the gravy and when well mixed add the chops. Cover and let simmer for 10 minutes, adding salt, pepper and a little Worchestershire sauce to taste.

PEACH BREAD PUDDING—Two cups bread crumbs, 2 cups milk, ½ cup sugar, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup diced peaches, ½ cup peach juice, 3 tablespoons butter, melted.

Mix ingredients. Let stand 10 minutes. Mix and pour into buttered baking dish. Bake 45 minutes in slow oven. Cool and chill. PIRATES AGAIN BATTLE CUBS

SPORT COMMENT

By James J. Long

Giant Ace's Versatility. • Rice Remarkable Vet.
Racing Opens in East. New Knockout Ruling.

LINDSTROM ONE OF GAME'S GREATEST

THOUGH THE REAL season has yet to begin, the training period has served to demonstrate more convincingly than ever that one of the most valuable players in baseball anywhere is Freddie Lindstrom, of the New York Giants. Bill Terry may come in for more publicity, maybe, on account of his batting, and Travis Jackson once of the others may occasion more comment as a rival, but where Terry is a first baseman and Jackson is a shortstop Lindstrom is the club's standout for all-around worth and has the faculty of starring wherever he is placed.

Freddie Lindstrom

As a third baseman he was excelled only by the matchless Pie Traynor. Stuffed to rightfield last year he played the garden like a veteran. Few doubt that he would have been a great success at second base this season if Manager McGraw had carried out his original plan to use him there and since being transferred from right field to the more exacting post in center Freddie has been performing in a fashion to make himself the talk of the training camp. Add six straight years of .300 hitting, surpassing run production and constant fight and hustle, and you have one of the game's best ball players.

LINDSTROM HAS BEEN a regular but never better than he was in 1931 and if anything he has improved. The Giants McGraw turned another star when he traded Travis Wanes for the distinction of being the only manager in the National League.

Perhaps he won't go that far, but that he will be a star in his new position nobody doubts. He's always that. Lindstrom is by no means the least reason why the Giants look certain to give the Cardinals a hard battle for the 1932 pennant.

ANOTHER EASTERN season of horse racing gets under way today with the opening of a 5-day meeting at Bowie, Maryland, one day in advance of the inauguration of Belmont Park and Grace from April 16 to 25, a split meeting at Pimlico from May 2 to 14. Fall meetings at Maryland Park, Havre de Grace from Sept. 12 to Oct. 22, Laurel from October 24 to 29, Pimlico from November 14 to 26.

Jamaica will open the Metropolitan turf campaign April 16 to May 7. Belmont Park will run from May 12 to June 9. Aqueduct from June 10 to July 5. Empire City from July 6 to 30, and Saratoga from August 1 to September 3. Four of these tracks will also have racing for 12 days each in the fall—Belmont September 5 to 17, Aqueduct September 19 to October 1, Jamaica October 3 to 15 and Empire City, October 17 to 29. The season does not promise to break any records for financial success, though Phar Lap may stir up enough new interest to save it.

FORTUNATELY FOR THE Pirates, spring exhibition games do not count in the standing of the clubs for the championship season. If they did, both the Cubs grabbing the first event of a six-game series and starting in where the Giants left off in taking the Gibson gang for a daily ride, the Bucs would be buried so deep in last place that they might never get out. Of course, no great importance is to be attached to these early results. They are not to be taken as an indication of how the Rovers may be expected to perform later, and it would be a mistake to figure the local club as weak as it has appeared to be so far. Still, a victory or two would be very consoling right now as an evidence of good faith. It's becoming rather monotonous.

Sam Rice

WHEN BASEBALL'S ENDURING stars are being discussed Sam Rice Washington veteran outfielder cannot be denied mention. He is 40 years old and this season will be his eighteenth under the big top but he is still rated among Walter Johnson's most valuable players.

Pittsburghers will always remember Rice as the only outfielder in history that ever "caught a home run." They are still positive that on Earl Smith's smash in Washington in the world series of 1925 Sam picked the ball off the ground or it was handed to him by a fan after it had gone over the short fence in front of the center field bleachers, but Cy Rigler ruled Rice made the catch and Smith was deprived of a four-baser.

HOWEVER THAT ISN'T Rice's only claim to fame. He has been one of the greatest outfielders and all-around ball players in the majors for a much longer time than the average diamond athlete endures.

Only three times has his batting average fallen below .300 and he has always ranked with the leading base-stealers and run-getters. In 1920 he stole 63 sacks to lead the American League.

RICE WAS A pitcher when he came up to the Senators from Petersburg in 1915, but he hasn't done any slab work since 1916. He was too good a hitter and ball player to be kept in the box. The majors have known a lot of others who started as pitchers and later became regulars in other positions, notably Babe Ruth, Bill Terry, George Sisler, Goose Goslin, Frank O'Doul, Charley Jamieson, Don Hurst, Smead Jolley, Earl Webb, Del Bissonette, Fred Schulte, Bing Miller, Roger Bresnahan, Jess Burkett, Mike Donlin, Bob Wallace, Cy Seymour and Elmer Smith, the old Pirate outfielder.

IF YOU THINK Battling Battalino was knocked out by Billy Petrolle last week you are mistaken. It was not even a technical knockout. That is according to the latest ruling of the New York Boxing Commission, which announces it will not recognize a knockout unless the losing boxer has received a full count of 10 seconds.

There will be no such thing as a technical knockout in New York State. A boxer is either counted out or the bout goes into the records as "stopped by the referee." In betting circles, however, it is unlikely that any attention will be paid to the technicality. A knockout bet really is a wager that one of the contestants will not go the distance, and they'll continue to pass on that angle.

WILLIAM MULDOON always has objected to the free-and-easy use of the word "knockout." It is a contraction of the phrase "knocked out of time," and originally meant that a fighter was unable to resume within 10 seconds. So the Solid Man holds that a fighter is not knocked out unless the referee counts 10 over him.

Just how the result is to be chronicled if a fighter quits during a round or between rounds or if the referee starts counting, sees the fallen boxer is out cold, and then stops his count at three or four is not explained. According to the ruling the fighter was not knocked out, though the referee could have counted 100. Another amusing angle is that though the commission rules Battalino was on his feet and was not knocked out it orders him to take a 60-day rest to recover.

Jack (Kid) Berg

THOUGH THE MEN are allowed to weigh up to 140 pounds under the articles, tonight's bout between Sammy Fuller and Jack (Kid) Berg in New York will really be a lightweight elimination, as the principals are part of the field in the hunt for Tony Canzoneri's title and the winner probably will be sent against one of the other contenders later. On the form he showed in beating Roy Miller and stopping Billy Wallace, Fuller is favored to take the decision, particularly as Berg has engaged in only two minor bouts since Tony Canzoneri gave him a trimming last September. However, Berg may have been benefited by his rest and may have more left than he is credited with possessing. He has pulled some surprising comebacks in the past and may spring another tonight. At any rate, it would be a mistake to count him as done before Fuller has demonstrated it to be a fact.

Ithenhour had his hands full in [illegible] but was through the first round, even though he did not [illegible] a knockout. He caught a real battler in Bettis Gene Ithenhour of the Harlem A. CRAVOTTA BALLIES

The champion [illegible] the edge in the first round [illegible] enough to [illegible] the [illegible] But Cravotta, a true champ, drilled enough hard right-hand shots to Ithenhour's chin to enable him to put the ambitious youngster away after one minute and 32 seconds of the third frame. He dropped him for a count of nine with a right to the steak-crunchers in the second round, and then nailed him with a pile-driving right to the side of the head in the third. Ithenhour, game to the end, made a valiant attempt to get to his feet but the power in Cravotta's right mitt was too great.

In the opening bout the judges drew no few boos and Bronx cheers from the assembled near-multitude when they awarded Erich Bredl of the Willow Club the verdict over Bill Nicky of the Pittsburgh Lyceum in a 160-pound class tussle. The fight was all its name implied all the way, with Nicky apparently sporting a safe margin thanks to his cleaner and more frequent punching. Bredl's best bet was a straight right to the head, but he did not seem to get it across often enough to warrant the judges' giving him it.

Johnny Riske, former South Hills all-around athlete advanced to the second round in the 160-pound class when he earned the decision over Steve Stefek of the Sands A. C. of Uniontown. The battle was close all the way, with Riske putting on a stimulating spurt in the final frame.

NINE-SECOND KNOCKOUT

Frank Kladdick of the Willow Club punched Johnny Este, of the Billick A. C., to the canvas after 1 minute and 1 second of scrapping in the first round. The scrap came under the 160-pound weight division. Kladdick carried about twice as many guns as Este could care for, and the latter heard the out count early.

Al Quaill of the Y. M. H. A. recorded a sensational nine-second kayo in the welterweight class when he stowed away M. Nesbit, Butler A. C. of St. Michael's, Pa.

Eddie Zitur came through to win an impressive verdict over Joe Young, unattached. Tonight's mixing begins at 7:30 o'clock. Yesterday's summary:

BELIEVE IT OR NOT By RIPLEY

(On request, sent with stamped addressed envelope, Ripley will send proofs and details of anything depicted by him in these cartoons.)

EXPLANATIONS OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF YESTERDAY: THE TOWN THAT CHANGED HANDS 76 TIMES IN TWO YEARS—Winchester, Va., by reason of its location, was an important strategical point in the Civil War and was hotly contested for by both combatant sides. Beginning with Gen. Stonewall Jackson, early in 1862, and ending in the final occupation of the city by the forces of Gen. Sheridan on September 19, 1864, the history of the city includes 76 military operations involving its occupational status between the two opposing armies of the conflict. On some days the town changed hands with bewildering rapidity. A good list of the successive operations involving possession of the town has been compiled by Miss Julia Chase, a resident of Winchester during the critical period, which served as the basis for my statement. THE PRODIGAL SILVER COIN—Mr. Giamatteo received his silver quarter in Santa Domingo, Dominican Republic, and marked it for identification. The quarter was spent in Maracaibo, Venezuela, in 1925, and was recovered by its original holder six years later in the change received at the box office of a Freeport, (L. I.), theater. This remarkable coincidence illustrates again to what extent the whole world is a financially interrelated unit. With 1,800,000,000 people to circulate amongst, the mathematical probability of this coin returning to its original holder after six years was tremendously remote.

STAR BATTLES AT ARENA

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

[illegible] Sabrino vs. Joey LaGrey and Angel Cliville vs. Tiger Joe West, 10 rounds each; and Leon Jendrasiak vs. Steve Senich and Patsy Hennigan vs. Johnny Banko, 6 rounds each, Kapphan Arena.

This is Homecoming Night for Joey LaGrey, former Johnstown and McKeesport welterweight boxer, now a full-grown middleweight puncher, of New York, who returns here for the first time in several years to show in the main bout of Eddie Kapphan's Arena in Addison street. His opponent will be Guy Salerno, Jack Perry's star from Los Angeles, who has turned in four victories since coming here, losing only to George Courtney.

Accompanying LaGrey is Angel Cliville, Negro middleweight, of Porto Rico, who meets Tiger Joe West, local boxer, in the first half of the double windup of two 10-rounders. Cliville is one of the deadliest punchers in the class, numbering among his knockout victims Rene DeVos, Tait Littman, Frankie Battaglia and others. He defeated Henry Firpo in a 10-round bout in Milwaukee in December.

LaGrey has been in with Dave Shade, Young Terry and others of this caliber since making his headquarters down East. A delegation of fans from Johnstown and another from McKeesport will be on hand to root for him tonight.

Rounding out the unusually attractive card, offered at the popular prices of $1 and $2, are two six-round preliminaries, showing Leon Jendrasiak, Grand Rapids southpaw, against Steve Senich, rugged Homestead lightweight, and Johnny Banko, of New Castle, against Patsy Hennigan, of Clairton. The first bout is set for 8:30.

TOURNEY DRAWS STARS

DETROIT, April 1.—(AP.)—Scotty Mantell's featherweight championship elimination tournament, which has National Boxing Association sanction, will get under way next Friday night with four of the first 10 ranking boxers in the division punched on the card. Tommy Paul, Buffalo, ranked fifth, will meet Bushy Graham, Utica, fifth rated lightweight, while Freddie Miller, Cincinnati, rated third, clashes with Johnny Pena, of Spain, who is ninth in the official ratings.

BOWLERS TO DINE

The annual banquet of the Carnegie Steel Company's Bowling League will be held tomorrow night in the Hotel Schenley. Entertainment will be by the Johnson Sisters, Twins of Harmony, who are featured in broadcasts from KDKA. J. L. Hughes, Carnegie Steel president, will speak. William Donald will be toastmaster.

GIZZY LOSES TO RAMEY

DETROIT, April 1.—(AP.)—Wesley Ramey, of Grand Rapids, had easy going in his 10-round bout with Battling Gizzy, of Pittsburgh, that followed the Jack Dempsey-Babe Hunt exhibition here last night.

Although Gizzy roughed Ramey a bit in opening rounds with short chopping blows, he soon began punching wildly and found his opponent rather difficult to reach. Most of Gizzy's blows connected with Ramey's back, arms or gloves. Ramey scored on points in at least eight of the rounds. There were no knockdowns.

Carlo Mazzolo, Detroit featherweight, was easy picking for Johnny Dunn, of Pittsburgh, in a six-round preliminary. Mazzolo was groggy in the third round and again in the fourth.

The first stage of his comeback campaign at an end, Dempsey was headed westward today for a few weeks of rest on the Coast before going into intensive training for a final crack at the title he lost six years ago to Gene Tunney. The former champion's exhibition tour ended when he outpointed, but failed to knock down, Babe Hunt, Ponca City (Okla.) heavyweight, whose long arms and vicious left hook made him dangerous throughout. The first and third rounds were even and Dempsey took the second and fourth by a shade.

BRAVES RELEASE TWO

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 1.—(AP.)—The Boston Braves started trimming the squad yesterday. Manager Bill McKechnie lopping off Bill McAfee, right-hand pitcher, and William (Rucky) Walters, infielder, to the Montreal club of the International League. Both are subject to recall at the end of the season.

VANITIES IN BENEFIT

The Quinnesec Vanities of the South Side play Terrytown Y girls in a benefit game at Rankin High School tonight. The money is to be used to defray expenses for the annual school picnic. Rankin High plays a faculty team in a preliminary skirmish.

DAVIES VICTOR OVER MARINO

Willie Davies, Charleroi flash, grabbed a split decision over Tony Marino, of McKeesport, in a whirlwind 10-round bout, feature of the mitt show last night at the Palisades, McKeesport. The largest crowd of the season attended the milling.

It was Willie's long-range hitting that won for him the verdict in a fight crammed full of action, both main-bouters setting a terrific pace from the outset. The judges disagreed, Jock Simko voting for Davies and Freddie Lux for Marino, and Referee Red Robinson decided the issue by casting his say-so in favor of Willie.

Davies outweighed Marino by two pounds, tipping the scales at 118¼ to Tony's 116¼, but this appeared to have little to do with the outcome. Marino went best early in the fight, but he tired toward the finish, and Davies took advantage of the situation, even though the pace also was telling on him. Repeatedly Marino scored in the infighting.

Joe Walcott, 145¾, of Washington, easily outpointed Joey Bazzone, 144½, of McKeesport, in the six-round semi-final. Angelo Vergione, 134, of Braddock, knocked out Karo Angeloss, 138½, of Johnstown, in the first round of the scheduled six-round second bout. The kayo came after two and one-half minutes of fighting.

Hal Finney made an impressive start as a professional. The Negro, former amateur ace, registered a technical knockout over Johnny Lewis, of Mercer, in the first round of the curtain-raiser. Referee Robinson stopped proceedings after Lewis had been floored three times.

LOS ANGELES, April 1.—Manager George Gibson has decided upon a drastic change in the daily workouts of the Pittsburgh Pirates in an effort to improve their hitting. The Bucco boss is not satisfied and has decided to confine daily morning practice to batting drills. He is attempting to find a way to bunch safeties.

The team has been playing excellent ball in all other departments, leaving nothing to be desired in fielding. The hurlers also have been performing in great fashion.

HARRIS LOOKS GOOD

Bill Harris hurled remarkable ball against the Chicago Cubs yesterday, and except for a pair of homers late in the game, by Hartnett and Barton, would have emerged victor over Bush in a brilliant duel. The Cubs spread themselves with an 8-3 victory.

Harris limited the Cubs to two bingles over the first five frames and had a decided edge in his battle with Bush. He fanned five of the Cubs' batters during the contest.

The Cubs and Pirates clash today in the second game of their six-tilt series. Manager Gibson will send either Steve Swetonic or Glenn Spencer to the mound.

THEVENOW IN LINEUP

Thevenow, whose right ankle, broken late last season, has been bothering him, reported fit and ready for duty and immediately was injected into the lineup.

Charley Wood and Remy Kramer, members of the Bucs' ailing list, showed improvement yesterday. Wood displayed marked improvement on the third day since he had his appendix removed. Kramer continues to doctor his arm, which has kept him on the sidelines since before the exhibition tour began.

Wilmerding Bows In Y. M. C. A. Event

YOUNGSTOWN, April 1.—(AP.)—Four teams remain undefeated in the first round of play in the International Y. M. C. A. basketball tournament here.

Oak Park, Ill., hung up an easy victory over Warren, O., 62 to 24, and Buffalo held the pace by administering a 50-to-36 defeat to Greensburg, Ind.

Youngstown won from Wilmerding, Pa., 41 to 37, and West Springfield, Mass., hung up a 58-to-35 victory over East Cleveland, O.

Nick Altrock Baseball's Humorist Says:

BILOXI, Miss., April 1.—Tonight we start on our long trip back home, and, from the looks of our itinerary, it was laid out for a hop-toad instead of a ball club. By the time we get to Washington we will have played 500,000 gallons of tank towns.

Nick Altrock

A big league club on its training trip always stops off at towns like Hohokus, Tenn., and Nick Altrock Flapjack, Ga., to scare the rookies. Because, if the rooks don't make good, they will be dropped off permanently in towns like these.

Personally, I can't get up enthusiasm over three weeks in an upper berth. When I finally climb down at the end of the trip I feel like Flagpole Kelly.

NEW 10-CLUB SANDLOT LOOP BEING FORMED

TRI-BOROUGH TO HAVE FIRST CLASS CIRCUIT

By TOM BIRKS

A plan to form a first class sandlot baseball loop along the lower Allegheny Valley has been under way for the last few weeks. The first meeting will be held in the Aspinwall Borough Hall a week from tonight at 8 o'clock.

The sponsors have in mind a 10-club loop and representatives from Aspinwall, Etna, Sharpsburg, Blawnox, West Etna, Millvale, Fox Chapel, Cherry City, Pleasant Valley and immediate communities have been invited to sit in at the session. H. W. Miller, who can be reached at Sterling 3944, is the secretary pro-tem.

Those interested expect to name the circuit the Tri-Borough League, and it is indicated that a fair sandlot group will start operations when the season opens.

NEW CLUB FORMED

With the passing of the Linwood club, champion of the West Penn League, from the sandlot ranks, fans around the Lincoln avenue district have been keenly awaiting news of a representative outfit at Hartman Park this season.

Led by Mike Somma, well known sandlot star, the Lincoln Community Builders came into existence this week. Many of last year's Linwood players will be with Somma. The first practice session has been called for Sunday afternoon at Hartman Park.

The secretary of the new club is Stanley Fogle, and he can be reached in the evenings at Hiland 5251. All of last season's Linwood players, and new ones wishing a tryout, should report to the field on Sunday at 1:30 p. m.

The Wilkinsburg Murs are to hold another meeting this evening at 810 Wood street, Wilkinsburg. Manager Courage has requested all interested players to be present.

BUTLER LEAGUE SET

BUTLER, Pa., April 1.—The Butler County Baseball League will open its season on May 1, managers have decided. Two new teams, East Brady and Company D. Medics, have been admitted.

J. J. Dunlevy, Jr., was re-elected president; Ralph Saylor and Mark McLafferty, vice presidents; William C. Faust, secretary; Forager Ferrell, assistant secretary, and Nathan Daly, treasurer.

Seven or eight teams will comprise the league. Teams will play three games a week throughout the season. Teams entered include Kohlers, champions, East Butler; Petersville, Parker, East Brady, Saxonburg, Company D Medics.

P. T. A. CONFAB APRIL 11

By PAUL G. SULLIVAN

The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh Tennis Association will be staged at the P. A. A. on Monday evening, April 11, according to official announcement by President J. Phillips Davis, of the district racquet body, today. The 1932 session, coming as it does at the start of the greatest expansion campaign in the history of Western Pennsylvania tennis, looms as highly important. The invitation is extended, states President Davis, not only to all members of all clubs affiliated with the P. T. A., but also to every court devotee, whether aligned with an organized playing group or not.

Representatives of net colonies in communities within the recently enlarged territory of the Steel City association are urged with particular cordiality to attend. The P. T. A. now covers Allegheny, Washington, Greene, Fayette, Westmoreland, Butler, Lawrence, Beaver, Somerset, Indiana, Armstrong, Clarion and Mercer counties, and it is hoped by local officials that delegates from many towns within the above area will visit Pittsburgh for the conclave, and discuss the project of extended tournament and team league play as outlined by Davis in his radio broadcast over WCAE during the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph sports department Trained Seals period last week.

Matters slated for disposition at the coming get-together include, beside the program noted in the preceding paragraph, preliminary plans for the Western Pennsylvania championships, slated for the Stanton Heights rectangles from June 18 to 26; revamping of the P. T. A. constitution and by-laws; shaping of the entries in the bi-divisional Inter-Club League loop; admission of new members into the association fold; special report and recommendations by Chairman Bob Schmertz, of the ranking committee; report by Chairman J. Howard Moore, who for the third consecutive year is arranging delectable card for the "Tennis Night" smoker at the P. A. A.—Tuesday, May 10, is the date—and election of officers and the appointment of standing committees for the racquet year.

Carnegie Tech varsity and freshman tennis candidates have reported to Coach B. P. Hoover and will begin indoor work at once. The first test for the Tartan netters is against Duquesne University, April 27, at home.

Fish Commissioner Proficient Angler

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 1.—(AP.)—If long-standing proficiency in catching fish makes one an efficient fish commissioner, Kenneth A. Reid, of Connellsville, fully qualifies for his new job—successor to Dr. Charles Reitell, of Pittsburgh.

Reid caught his first fish, a 13½-inch trout, when he was 3 years old. He has fished in 22 states of the union and in three Canadian provinces. He is a regular contributor to several national sportsmen's magazines.

Reid was appointed Wednesday to succeed Dr. Reitell, who resigned.

HEYDLER HERE FOR VISIT

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

John A. Heydler, president of the National League, spent today in Pittsburgh. Heydler stopped off on his return journey from Cincinnati where yesterday he attended the funeral of I. C. Widrig, late treasurer of the Cincinnati baseball club.

Despite the depression, Heydler is optimistic concerning the major league baseball season which begins one week from Tuesday. The philosophy of the veteran baseball man regards the diamond pastime as a sort of safety valve for Americans. Touching on the National game, Heydler said:

"Each succeeding spring I look forward to the start of the baseball season with pronounced feelings of delight. I might say frankly that I anticipate the impending opening with more fervor than ever because I feel that baseball holds that intangible something that affords an escape for our citizens from cares and woes that in recent years have become well nigh unbearable."

Heydler, like other baseball officials, regrets that baseball is destined to carry a tax. He conferred with Vice President S. E. Watters of the Pirates on the proposed tax and other issues. He will leave tonight for New York.

Pirate President William E. Benswanger was in St. Louis for a short stopover this afternoon, en route to San Antonio, Tex. There was a strong hint that Benswanger would confer with holdout Pitcher Heinie Meine who resides near St. Louis.

LOCAL GOLFER DEFEATED

PINEHURST, N. C., April 1.—(AP.)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, and Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., will meet here tomorrow for the North and South women's golf championship.

Mrs. Hill advanced today by defeating Miss Margaret Maddox, of Atlanta, 2 up in the semi-finals. Miss Orcutt, the defending champion, eliminated Mrs. Sarah Wadsworth, of Pittsburgh, 5 and 4.

East Pittsburgh High Team Honored

East Pittsburgh citizens last night paid tribute to their high school basketball team, champion of Section XVII, with a testimonial banquet in the Hebron Lutheran Church.

James A. Kennedy was toastmaster. Among the speakers were James A. Morgan, president of the school board; Dave Kerr, well-known professional basketball star; John Danton, secretary of the Boy Scouts of America; Ralph (Buzz) Hogan, Carnegie Tech coach; Charles R. (Chick) Davies, Duquesne University coach; Frank Graham, president of the East Pittsburgh Council; Dr. T. H. Snowwhite, of the Braddock School Board; C. F. Young, East Pittsburgh High School principal; Johnny Coleman, East Pittsburgh High School coach, who presented letters and gold basketballs to the members of the squad, and Julius Levin, of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

CUE PLAY OFF TONIGHT

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP.)—Edmond Ansara, of Egypt, upset the defending champion, Albert Portegen, of Germany, 400 to 181, in the final match of the world amateur 14.2 balkline billiard championship tournament last night, forcing a play-off for the title between Ponegen and Adolphe Van Belle, of Belgium, tonight.

HONOR BRADDOCK TEAM

The players and coaches of Braddock High School, W. P. I. A. L. champions, were dined by the Braddock Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon yesterday. Braddock B. P. O. E. is to honor the lads at a combined dinner of the citizens of Braddock and the Elks next week.

HAINES ELECTED PRESIDENT OF JUNIOR LOOP

By JULIUS LEVIN

The Junior Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League, starting its fourth year of existence, has elected officers for 1932. Fred E. Haines, principal at Duquesne Junior High, was chosen president, succeeding K. F. Sterritt, of Monessen, who has retired. R. E. Beaton, of Wilkinsburg Junior High, will serve as vice president; B. Y. Wilkinson, of Calhoun Junior High, West Homestead, was named secretary, and D. W. Copeland, of Charleroi Junior High, treasurer.

Championship trophies in basketball were awarded Charleroi Section I titleholder, Duquesne Section II champion, and Glassport, winner in Section III. Duquesne was the winner in the playoffs.

Plans were completed for the staging of the annual track championships at Glassport at a date to be announced later.

School Notes

Ben Amdt, former Waynesburg star and last Assistant Carnegie Tech coach, and Bill Berman, of McKeesport, are among the many applicants in line to succeed Lou Little, Tech's new mentor at Washington High School, who has resigned to accept a similar post at Wash. Jef. College.

Coach Steve Stepanian has started spring football practice at Charleroi High School with a squad of 45 candidates on hand. Nine lettermen from last year are available for next fall's team. Lester Hinerton, star tackle, will captain the Cougars on the gridiron.

Lora Towne, popular mentor at Munhall High School, has been transferred to Homestead next year. The Munhall school Board is well pleased with the success attained by the former Waynesburg athlete.

Ray Campbell, coach at Homestead High School, has started spring football practice with a large squad on hand. Homestead will play a flock of night games at home next fall.

Mark Lipps, coach at Aliquippa High, has a promising team returning to the baseball diamond campaign. The team has been working indoors until the weather improves. Aliquippa also is training for the diamond campaign.

Spring drills have been inaugurated by Ed Taylor, football coach at Rochester High School. Rochester will have to make a number of replacements in the varsity lineup due to graduations.

SCHOOL GRIDDERS DRILL

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 1.—Eight lettermen and dozens of reserves reported yesterday for spring football practice at Greensburg High School.

SPORT VIGNETTES

Ernie Sesto, Carnegie Tech's boxing coach, lived on the site of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph building and his folks had to move when the houses were torn down to make room for the newspaper plant, back in 1913 . . . Ernie has a lot of confidence in boxing as a great college sport . . . "We've been at it only two years in Pittsburgh," he says, "and have made great progress. Football and the other sports have been with us for lo' these many years. Give us the same opportunity and watch us grow."

Coaches of the local college football squads are for boxing as an off-season sport. . . . They believe it is the greatest medium conceivable to teach their players self confidence. . . . As Sesto puts it, once the bell rings, it's a case of every man for himself—and they don't put in any substitutes for you when you're tired.

If you want to get Ernie stirred up just ask him to tell you what happened when he took his Tartan boxers to Syracuse for a dual meet this season and was forced against his better judgment, to put Croissant, his inexperienced light-heavyweight, against Joe Moran, the highly-touted middleweight knockerout of the Orange . . . Moran is the king bee of the Syracuse team and the fans come out to see him knock 'em dead . . . Tech did not have a middleweight available and it was explained to Ernie that the show would be a flop unless Joe were served his usual victim. So Croissant had to take up the cudgels and all he did was to plaster young Mr. Moran all over the ring for a couple of rounds, flooring him several times to the horrified chagrin of Joe's admirers and the astonished referee who, according to Ernie, gave Croissant what in the professional parlance would be termed the "works".

The referee, Ernie says, pushed back the Tech man when he tried to finish the job with Moran getting up groggy and in other ways gave Moran respites that carried him through until Croissant became tired in the last round and fell down, another knockout victim of the redoubtable Moran, who thereupon was hailed as a conquering hero by all and sundry, the while Sesto was lucky to get away with his life when he made so bold as to register a protest at the strange goings-on. Ernie still froths at the month when he speaks of the incident.

J. L. Kaufman, manager of WCAE, the radio station, has promised himself a treat in the way of attending the opening game of the baseball season at Forbes Field less than three weeks hence, if the weather is good, the depression no worse, business not too brisk for the day and he doesn't change his mind . . . He's been going to attend the opener for years, but never has got around to it . . . But this year it's a promise to himself, or maybe a threat . . . He's the sort of a fan who doesn't care which team wins and gets a kick out of an artistic out of work on the field, but finds his day ruined when one of the highly-paid diamond artists pulls a Babe Herman or its equivalent.

Here the hockey season is over and done with, so far as Pittsburgh is concerned, and life continues on as serenely as ever . . . Wonder how our hockey expert, Carl Shatto, explains that?—HARRY KECK.

New Rule on Loans of Stocks by Brokers Made Effective Today

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

TODAY MARKS THE deadline beyond which members of the New York Stock Exchange cannot lend stocks held for the account of customers without specific consent from their clients.

The eve of placing the new rule into effect was marked by advances in the premiums demanded for lending stocks in which there is a large short interest and by the addition of a large number of new stocks to the premium list. Beyond this there was remarkably little unsettlement in the normal business of the exchange. In some quarters it was thought that the close of the period under the old rule would be marked by a large volume of short covering. But the weakness of the market yesterday did not indicate that shorts had any particular apprehension about an adequate supply of stocks in the loan crowd.

Naturally the stock loan group on the floor of the exchange took on unusual activity after the close since many blocks of stocks had to be withdrawn and replaced by other securities.

Premiums On Stocks Increase in Rate

A PREMIUM OF ½ was bid for 40,000 shares of United States Steel in the loan crowd late yesterday. Auburn loaned. Allied Chemical and J. I. Case loaned at ¼ premium. Case later jumped to ⅝ premium. American Telephone and Westinghouse loaned at ½ premium.

These loaning rates represented sharp advances from previous levels. Recently United States Steel loaned at a premium of 1-32 and advances in rates on other stocks were correspondingly great.

Most brokers have been making attempts to get their customers to give their consent to the lending of stocks held for their accounts. Widely varying figures have been given as to the percentage of results secured. A recent meeting of representatives of brokers in New York showed that the agreements secured by individual houses ranged from 40 to 80 per cent of their customers. Last minute drives by some houses undoubtedly have been effective in bringing in new agreements.

New Rule Announced By Stock Exchange

THE NEW RULE was announced by the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange on February 18 and was made effective April 1. In it, not all brokers' statements but the printed notation that the right to lend or pledge securities held for customers was reserved by the broker. Under the new rule this is considered insufficient, since many customers did not realize they were giving automatic consent to lend stocks to shorts. The exchange rule provides that a definite written statement must be procured from each customer giving permission before stocks can be loaned.

The broker for a short seller of stock must make delivery of the stock on the following day just as if the stock were actually held. To do this he must borrow the stock from some other broker who has accounts on the long side. The broker borrowing the stock puts up an amount of money equal to the value of the stock as security. This amount of money is adjusted daily to conform to changes in the price of the stock.

Under ordinary conditions the lender of the stock pays interest at the prevailing call money rate for the use of the money. When the short interest in a particular stock is large and the loan demand is heavy, this interest rate is reduced below the call rate. If the demand is even more heavy the stock is loaned "flat" or without any interest, and when the loan demand is exceptional a premium may actually be paid by the borrower of the stock. Premiums have been paid for the use of many active stocks recently. The low rate for call money, 2½ per cent, has been one factor making premiums more common than at most times in the past.

STOCK MARKET LIST HOLDS UP WELL

Some Shares Rise Point Of Two Then Settle Back In Sluggish Trading

NEW YORK, April 1.—(AP.)—Wall street was still depressed today by the House of Representative's approval of a stiff tax on stock transfers, but only scattered selling appeared in the share market.

The first day of the new ruling on loaning stocks to shorts had but little effect on the market. The list advanced a point or two here and there in the morning, then slowly settled back. Interest remained centered on Washington, and shares of some companies manufacturing products subject to proposed special levies were under pressure, notably the motors. But the list as a whole held up well and trading was sluggish.

The public utilities were again under pressure. North American and Standard Gas dropped a couple of points to new lows. Eastman and Coca Cola each slumped more than 3 points, presumably reflecting the proposed tax on beverages and cameras. American Telephone, however, held up well. It rose 2 points in an early upturn, then gave up most of its gain, but held above last night's close. United States Steel rose 1½, then reacted. Allied Chemical lost a couple of points. In the rails, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific dipped a point to new lows. Auburn dropped 6 points, after yesterday's loss of 11. Fractional losses carried General Motors, Studebaker, Nash and Hudson to new bottom levels, as well as General Electric, Dupont and Kennecott.

Banking and brokerage quarters were inclined to the opinion that it would take something unusual in the way of good news to help the market very much while the federal tax uncertainty still hangs over it. But important financial quarters continued to urge that the budget must be balanced at all costs. United States Treasury estimates indicating that the House bill is still rather far short of meeting the requirements found considerable support in Wall street. For instance, brokers estimate that the tax on stock transfers, based on the recent volume of trading, would produce little more than $30,000,000 of revenue, rather than the $75,000,000 claimed for it.

Stock brokers were mostly inclined to look for a protracted period of quiet markets. There was much talk of closing up of branch offices, consolidating wire systems and effecting other economies. Some also expressed the opinion that extending the income taxes to dividends would divert investment buying from stocks to tax exempt bonds.

There was little in the day's business and trade news to brighten the outlook, although the weekly mercantile reviews said that the warmer weather had quickened retail movement of spring merchandise, and some quarters were optimistic over the prospects of the intensive automobile sales campaigns which are now starting.

GRAINS SHOW FIRMNESS

CHICAGO, April 1.—Firmness developed in grain prices today after a hesitant start. Moderate initial advances in securities had a strengthening effect, and so likewise did reports that the Spanish government was studying a project for immediate imports of wheat because of insufficiency of present stocks. Opening unchanged to ½ cent lower, wheat afterward more than recovered. Corn started ⅛ to ¼ cent off and subsequently rallied.

Monthly unofficial domestic crop reports, although construed as decidedly bullish, proved to be about as generally expected, estimates of 1932 winter wheat production averaging 502,000,000 bushels, compared with 644,000,000 a year ago. One leading authority said the crop condition was low in the heavy producing areas southwest and west, especially Western Kansas and Nebraska as well as Northwest Oklahoma, and that the crop as a whole would be under normal.

FOX TO REDUCE CAPITAL

NEW YORK, April 1 (AP)—After writing off depreciation and other expenses in the amount of more than $5,000,000 the Fox Film Corporation, for the year ended December 26, last reports a net loss, after taxes of $4,263,557 as compared with a profit of $10,251,826 for the previous fiscal year.

After payment of dividends of $4,104,035 and unrealized loss on foreign exchange of $661,513 and other minor deductions the company's 1931 deficit, charged to surplus was $9,664,539, leaving a balance of $1,924,102 in the surplus account.

A notice to stockholders contains the proposal to reduce the corporation's capital to an amount equivalent to $5 in respect to each share, namely, to $12,628,300. The notice says:

"Since the capital account as of December 26, 1931, was $90,786,000, this proposed action will enable the corporation to write certain of its investments down to a nominal figure and set up adequate reserves for the revaluation of other assets."

It is then proposed to write down to the nominal figure of $1 the corporation's investment in the stock of Fox Theaters Corporation, Fox Chicago Theaters Company and in the equipment of its kodo-chrome laboratories.

America Now Faces Future More Hopefully

By B. C. FORBES

AMERICA'S ATTITUDE toward the future is becoming less despairing. Until recently most of the many communications addressed to this column were pessimistic, many alarmist.

Mr. Forbes

The majority now reflect new hopefulness. Some business executives are mustering up fresh courage. They are becoming disposed to risk exercising enterprise. They see a fighting chance for profitable response to increased sales efforts.

The second quarter may prove better than the admittedly disappointing first quarter.

At that, extremely important progress has been made since the year opened, notably in banking and monetary conditions, rather than in trade or industry. The stopping of bank failures, the reappearance of hoarded money, the easing of interest rates, the establishment of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the passage of the Glass-Steagall bill are achievements of basic importance.

Betterment of financial conditions was a necessary preliminary to betterment of business conditions. The first has been accomplished; the second should follow.

WOULD I be accounted crazy were I to predict that America's railroads, and American railway securities, have averted a crisis and will do better hereafter? Railway executives have effected far-reaching economies. The ten per cent wage cut cannot fail to swell profits which direly needed swelling. The rate increase is not to be overlooked. The government machinery for averting railway financial trouble is a favor of prime moment.

My guess is that railway net profits will improve, and that railway bonds and stocks will benefit.

UNITED AIR LINES, transporters of half America's air mail, have reduced rates to rail plus Pullman—and more than made up the reduction in rates by the increased number of passengers attracted. President P. G. Johnson tells me that the company is today adding new passenger schedules, some without air mail contracts, and will give direct service to 45 cities in 19 states, "with connections to 127 cities in 37 states."

This brings the total flying to approximately 37,000 miles a day, making United by far the largest operator in the world. Last year more air mail passengers and express were carried than in the year before and millions of dollars were invested in providing additional equipment. This is vivid proof that the public is rapidly accepting the airplane.

DIVIDEND STATISTICS compiled by this column reveal that stockholders are bearing their share of loss of income. During March there were only 43 improved dividend announcements, contrasted with 227 unfavorable announcements. First quarter comparisons follow:

FAVORABLE	1932	1931	1930	1929	1928
Jan.	69	117	172	120	111
Feb.	31	70	117	126	98
March	43	80	161	196	99
Totals	143	267	450	442	308
UNFAVORABLE
Jan.	194	134	52	3	7
Feb.	204	152	24	11	26
March	227	205	61	16	11
Totals	625	491	137	30	44

The writer ventures to predict that the first quarter of next year will provide less discouraging comparisons.

I HEAR that Congress, on second thought, has lost its eagerness to disclose the names of short sellers—and the reason why they sold short.

COTTON DROPS AFTER RISE

NEW YORK, April 1.—Cotton opened steady today an advance of 3 to 5 points on trade buying and covering. May sold at 6.18. There did not appear to be much cotton for sale at the start, but offerings increased on the bulge and prices eased after the initial demand had been supplied.

Prices just about lost the early gain under this pressure, but the dips seemed to bring in more trade buying and covering which sent May up to 6.20 with the general list showing net advances of about 8 to 10 points before the end of the first hours.

The early rally was followed by a quieter and rather irregular market. Buyers evidently found little encouragement in the action of the stock market. Demand tapered off at the advance and prices gradually sagged under comparatively small offerings. At midday May was selling around 6.09 and October 6.49 with the market showing net declines of 1 to 3 points.

ST. PAUL GETS P. G. A. MEET

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 1.—(AP)—The National Professional Golfers' Association will determine its 1932 champion at Keller, a Ramsey County fee course, either August 29-September 3, or September 5-10.

Announcement that the P. G. A. play, for the first time, would be over a public course was made today by the St. Paul Junior Association of Commerce. At the same time that organization decided the tournament would be substituted for the annual St. Paul $10,000 open.

A. R. Gates, executive head of the P. G. A., in conference with junior association officers, said the professionals are unanimous in their desire to have the championship settled on Keller course. Experience with the layout during the St. Paul open has made it a favorite of the professionals, who expect to find the going more difficult this year.

ON THE RIGHT ROAD

THE Ford Motor Company announces public display of its new models. More important than the cars is its display of courage.

Far greater than any dollar profits which may go to the Ford Company will be the profit to the morale of general business.

CHAPTER L.

Lily Lou waited two days more.

"I must say you've gotten nervous. You never used to be fidgety," May said. "And I can't understand your not wanting to sing for us. That was one thing none of us would stand for when you were a kid. We couldn't stand these 'don't wanner' kids. I must say, you were always ready to sing or play then!"

"It's just because I'm so tired, and a coloratura voice is so delicate. To sing when you're tired—"

Raymond and May exchanged glances.

"What did I tell you?" High hat, already—they seemed to say.

They took her to call on Irene, who was visiting her husband's mother in San Francisco.

Lily Lou would hardly have known her; she was so changed. So much more attractive. Plump, laughing and happy.

Lily Lou could have bit off her tongue; it was so hard to keep from telling about the bubchen, as she held Irene's tiny girl on her lap, ran her fingers through the flaxen curls.

SURPRISING NEWS

That night she asked Raymond to make her reservations for the next day. "I must get back," she told them. "I know that it seems such a short visit for such a long trip, but I've got to get back. I've a feeling that I've been away too long already."

May and Ray exchanges glances again.

Because there was nothing more to say, and she was afraid of saying too much, she picked up the evening paper, turned its pages idly.

Staring out of the society section was the face that had haunted her, that had never been really out of her thoughts for months.

"I wouldn't be surprised," May said without looking up. "It's a poor week that she doesn't get it in once."

"Miss Peggy Sage, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Vincent Sage, whose wedding to Mr. Claude Orfington Newman will be an event of early autumn."

ENGAGEMENT BROKEN

Then, she couldn't be going to marry Ken . . . not that it mattered, of course . . .

"May, wasn't she engaged to my ex-husband?"

"Who, the Sage girl? Oh, yes. Heavens, it was all over all the papers. Didn't I send you them? I meant to. I thought that at least he might have waited a decent interval! Well, you can be darn glad you got out of THAT, Lily Lou. He did the same thing to Peggy he did to you. He—"

"Didn't I send you the papers? I meant to. It was the time you were abroad. Are you sure you didn't get them? I told Raymond at the time. I said, 'You can't tell me that they deliver all the mail over there,' I said—"

"But what was it he did?"

"Oh! Well, the Sages tried to fix it so that it would look as though Peggy broke the engagement, but Raymond brought home one of those society scandal sheets one of the men at the factory had, and it said that he broke it and left her flat, and it said—hinted, you know—about another affair he had—oh, they didn't have your name at all! Thank goodness for that! But about a marriage having been annulled. I said to Raymond at the time, I said 'Thank fortune WE were not dragged into it.' I said I might not have sent you the scandal sheet because Raymond took it back, I think, but I certainly did get you the other papers and mail them. I remember distinctly, thinking at the time that I could just as well put in a little gift and it would get by without duty. Lots of people—"

SENT FEW LETTERS

"I didn't get them. You might have written—"

"Written! Don't talk to me about writing. You never wrote any of us, to amount to anything. I never had anything as unsatisfactory as your letters from Europe, especially Vienna, a place I've always been interested in on account of the Merry Widow and all those Viennese comedies, and the Blue Danube and all. Really there were times when I—well, I wondered if you ever went to Europe. I know that Raymond doubted it sometimes."

"I was there all right. My goodness didn't I send mother the clippings from the Paris papers when I sang Michaela in Carmen—"

"No. You said you were going to. But she never got them."

"Well, I can't help that now. It wasn't much of a notice anyway. Just said my small voice was sweet and flexible, and it said I made an appealing Michaela, or something like that. Nahlman was the whole show—"

May looked at her, a little aggrieved still. "I didn't say I doubted it. Only my goodness we used to hash it over and hash it over when any one of us did anything like get invited to a good party, or have a tooth out, and this last year has been different. Your letters postmarked all those foreign places—all those new names. Gwin, Schierilli, Nahlman, and before that, that woman, Mrs. Manchester, and your friend Maxine Rochon—You never wrote anything real about any of them. I don't know. I guess we've just drifted apart. You've changed, too. I don't know just how, except that you're thinner, and wear your hair differently, but it's deeper than that. You're not the same."

"Well, it's been a long time," Lily Lou said defensively.

Another long silence.

"You never told me what happened to Ken. I mean, is he still around here? After all—he was married to me. You can't blame me for being a little interested."

He isn't! Not that I expected much of any of that clan. But you'd think at least with mother dying that they could have at least sent a bunch of poison oak. They might have done THAT much—Ken at least."

"He can go to the South Pole and hang himself on it, for all of me," May said dryly. "And that's that."

That's that. Lily Lou thought about it on the long trip across the country. Every mile brought her nearer to the bubchen, farther from California and the Sage girl and Ken . . . who could hang himself on the South Pole for all of May . . .

"For all of me, too!" she thought, a little bitterly.

But she wished May hadn't told her about him. It had spoiled something . . . disturbed the memory that had been sweet and dim.

"I wish I'd never set eyes on him!"

Synopsis

Lily Lou Lansing has ambitions to become an opera singer. She meets Kentfield Sargent, son of a wealthy shipper. Ken is also interested in Peggy Sage, prominent society girl. Ken admits his love for Lily Lou and they go away and are married. When Lily Lou first sees Ken's mother she is told that Ken was not old enough to get married. Anxious days follow. Then Lily Lou is told by Ken's father that the marriage has been annulled. He gives her $500 and a ticket to New York. In New York she has a hard time getting a job and her money runs low. From a home town paper she reads that Ken has become engaged to Peggy. She learns that she is to become a mother. She gets a job as accompanist with Dwight Gwin, voice teacher. Nita Nahlman, famous opera singer, hears Lily Lou sing and offers to take her to Europe to study. In Vienna Lily Lou becomes the mother of a baby boy. When Lily Lou recuperates they return to Paris, where, through an injury to one of the singers, Lily Lou gets her first chance to sing in opera. She sings well and wins much praise. Lily Lou and her baby are sent back to New York by Nahlman. Maxine asks that they live with her. Lily Lou's mother dies. After borrowing train fare, Lily Lou gets home in time to attend the funeral.

Now Go On

"You've changed," May told Lily Lou.

Heart of a Wife

Madge Is Resentful at Being Ignored

"I'll have the table here, right away." Mr. Underwood said, when the surgeon had expressed his desire to hurry along the emergency operation which he intended to perform upon the wounded Chinese messenger, lying unconscious in our library.

"Very well, we'll get ready right away," the surgeon said, and in the next few minutes there seemed to be a continuous procession in and out of the library. Jim and Harry lugged in the big kitchen table. Katherine dashed to the kitchen and returned with the sterilizing pan filled with instruments, and Dicky, who did not appear until nearly the end of the preparations, was immediately drawn into the room by Harry Underwood with as much gratification as if he were another professional nurse.

Katherine appeared at the door but once, after she had come back with the instruments and looked at us oddly.

"Will you girls see to it that we are not disturbed?" she said. "I won't need you in here. Harry and Dicky can do everything that is necessary, and there's no use of using you both up, also."

It was a plausible remark, but it did not ring quite true to me. I had the feeling that if I had not been there, she would have asked Lillian to help her, that she was sparing me because of the strain I had been under in finishing the fourth act of my play.

IS RESENTFUL

It was a queer little reaction which came to me as I sat with Lillian outside the door of the library behind which we knew there was being waged a desperate battle for the life of the wounded Chinese messenger. Always had I shouldered the heaviest part of the domestic burden in any emergency. It was an odd experience for me to be set aside. I was not sure that I relished it, although I knew that it was only part of the plan for sheltering me from all unnecessary work outside my writing which Dicky had planned and which all the members of the household appeared to be carrying out. I should have been highly gratified but with the perversity of—femininity—possibly of human nature—I resented being kept away from the center of things. I had no desire to be the temperamental literary star sheltered from all commonplace things.

"How do you like the thumb-twiddling?" Lillian asked after our first five minutes of silence.

"I don't like it at all," I said. "I'd much rather be in there in the middle of things than waiting out here in this suspense."

"Same here," Lillian agreed, "but Katrina's the boss and, of course, Harry and Dicky have had a lot of experience in the ambulance work. Harry especially."

"Yes, that's true," I agreed listlessly. "But tell me, do you know what they're doing?"

"It isn't every complicated," she replied. "There's a broken rib with the jagged edge perilously near the lung. There are other broken bones to be set. They battered him up rather brutally, and there's a slight concussion for which of course, there is nothing to do—they won't try trepanning on a kitchen table."

ASKED INTO ROOM

"Will they dare to anesthetize him, in his condition?" I asked.

"He's pretty well under the anesthesia of death," Lillian said grimly.

I asked no more questions. The picture of that inert figure in the library so near the border line between life and death obsessed me. I think Lillian saw it also for she did not speak again and we sat in silence until Mr. Underwood opened the door and came out, the deeply etched lines in his face alone betraying the nervous strain which he had just experienced.

"Alive?"

Lillian just breathed the question, and her big husband answered her gravely.

"Only just," he said. "Will you both come in now?"

"Madge?" Lillian's voice held a surprised note, and again I felt that faint resentment at being considered out of things.

"Especially Madge," Mr. Underwood replied. "We've got to have you, Lady Fair," he turned to me with a ghost of a smile, "because of your wonderful memory. We'll need you too, Lil, if you can remember any of your shorthand from medieval time."

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

One of the most interesting results developed in the weekly meetings of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club is the unusually amount of juvenile talent that makes its appearance every week. The art of dancing is, perhaps, one of the most interesting.

At almost every chapter meeting a group of dancers appear in the regular program and the grace and efficiency of these youngsters is really something close to marvelous.

MEMBERS VERSATILE

Then there are youngsters who shine in monologue and recitations and scores of others who appear in songs and instrumental solos—the violin, the accordian, harmonica, piano and cornet. While all these forms of entertainment furnish wholesome pastime for the members of the club, they also inspire confidence and poise in the entertainment which will be of great value to them in later years. The weekly programs vary—no two are alike. And there is always a clamor for enthusiastic juvenile artists for an opportunity to appear.

If you are not a member of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club, send your name and address, name of your parents, school you attend, date of your birth, to the secretary, Junior Komic Club, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a membership card and button will be mailed you, or go to any of the theaters tomorrow, which are listed here, and enroll and a membership card and button will be given you.

The Old Story

Paying a woman's penalty—time after time

In the year of 1— there should be no monthly worries to you. Some women still think they must suffer—they haven't heard of Midol—or can't believe that it has solved their problem.

• • •

Did you know that five to seven minutes after swallowing a tiny tablet you can be yourself—can be comfortable—can go about without feeling a single further twinge of muscular pain?

Your regular periods need not be painful—they are not painful to those who know of Midol. These wonderful tablets make Nature's process a mere incident. No pain, not even discomfort when you have learned to depend on Midol, as women who used to have the hardest time have found. It is not a narcotic, does not interfere with the process, but does stop the pain; relieves headaches, too; neuralgia, etc. Every drugstore has Midol.

A tortoise gets along quite nicely;
He draws within his shell precisely
As I would often like to do
And so would you and you and you.
For instance, when weary of flat conversation
He pulls in his neck and enjoys isolation;
His skin is by nature contrived good and thick,
No ill-spoken word can cut him to the quick;
A tortoise, you'll note, need not be polite,
With a flex of the neck he can wince out of sight;
Oh, there's much to be said for the exclusive features
That nature bestows on her lowliest creatures.

Poor Duquesne Light!

Reports Record Earnings for 1931—Offers Its Customers a 10-Cent Rate Cut.

Year by year the Duquesne Light Company increases its profits. Year by year its business gains in proportion to Pittsburgh's industrial development. Even in 1931, an off year for business, this power company was able to exceed its previous high record in net earnings.

The Duquesne Light Company has been granted a monopoly of this city's electricity business. Its position is carefully guarded against aggression from outside interests by the Public Service Commission. Under such conditions it is not surprising that Duquesne Light's earnings have shown an unbroken annual growth.

But the company, which owes this growth to a grant of a monopoly on a city's business, has a duty to that city. The individuals who have added to the prosperity of that organization, a prosperity so well entrenched that it is not affected by the greatest business depression in our history, have a right to expect a share in this prosperity.

A stockholder of a utility company gets his share through increased dividends. The consumer can get his share only through reductions in rates and he has a perfect right to demand reductions when the utility's statement of earnings shows that all the prosperity created by the community is going to the stockholder.

As a sop to the rising tide of public opinion, the Duquesne Light Company recently proposed a cut of 1 cent a kilowatt hour on all the power billed to domestic consumers in the first group under the present system of charging. This amounts to only 10 cents a month for the great majority of users.

The company has made much of the fact that this will cost it in the neighborhood of $500,000 a year. Half a million dollars sounds like a lot of money, but it must be considered in proportion to the other factors involved.

The Duquesne Light Company, after deducting all charges including an allowance for depreciation of its equipment, earned $6,643,010 in 1925. It increased this in each succeeding year until in 1931 its earnings reached a new high record of $14,135,700, more than double the amount in 1925.

BUT THE IMPOVERISHED DUQUESNE LIGHT COMPANY CAN ONLY AFFORD TO RETURN $500,000 OF THIS ANNUALLY TO CONSUMERS.

Everyone knows that industrial and commercial use of power declined last year due to the deplorable state of business. But the company's total gross receipts declined only 3.03 per cent. What kept the decrease at this small amount? What part of the business increased and, to a large extent, compensated for the loss of industrial power consumption?

These same domestic consumers whom the company is trying to put off with a 10-cent-a-month cut did it. They bought more washing machines, more vacuum cleaners, more electric irons and increased their average consumption 4.07 per cent.

You, Mr. Average Resident of Pittsburgh, burned 34 more kilowatt hours of electricity last year. You contributed to the growth of your city and made it possible for the Duquesne Light Company to double its earnings in six years.

Now, Mr. Average Resident of Pittsburgh, aren't you entitled to more than 10 cents a month off your electric bill?

Too Much Was Paid

Woodside's Inquiry Has at Least Shown the County Could Have Obtained Truck Service More Cheaply.

Out of the maze of testimony thus far given in Controller Woodside's investigation into the renting of trucks by the county last year one fact stands forth conspicuously:

Trucks frequently could have been hired for much less than was paid for them. The taxpayers would have been saved many thousands of dollars if the County Commissioners had been as diligent in seeking low-priced service as some of the persons to whom they gave trucking contracts and who at once sub-let the contracts at much lower figures, pocketing the difference.

An audit is reported to have shown, for example, that John J. Dean, Bloomfield political leader, was paid $7,710 for the use of a truck last year, but that the truck involved was actually owned and driven by E. W. Schallenberger, who was paid $4,725 by Dean for the use of the truck.

The public will be interested in knowing why politicians were given the contracts instead of the men who furnished the trucks and did the work. The taxpayers will appreciate an explanation of the County Commissioners' failure to obtain service for the county at the comparatively low rate of payment that Schallenberger, for instance, is said to have charged Dean.

It is a satisfaction to learn from District Attorney Park that he is following the inquiry.

War on Tuberculosis

Watchfulness Is Necessary to Retain the Ground Gained In the Campaign Against the Disease.

The Tuberculosis League of Pittsburgh is launching today a campaign intended to effect the early discovery and prompt treatment of cases of the disease.

The Department of Public Health, the Allegheny County Medical Society and the public schools are co-operating. The general public can help, too.

Tuberculosis was once one of the leading causes of death in Pittsburgh. Years of educational activities have greatly reduced its mortality rate.

Special watchfulness is necessary at this time to retain the ground won in the fight; for undernourished persons are particularly prone to catch tuberculosis.

Progress of Aviation

Air Transportation, Quietly Forging Ahead, Is Winning The Confidence of the Public.

The State Aeronautics Commission announces that the new beacons lighting the air route between Pittsburgh and Erie will be turned on tonight.

It is also announced that recommendations for emergency landing fields at Clinton, Allegheny County, and Clyde, Westmoreland County, have been approved.

Every night about 10 o'clock an airplane wings its way across the county not far from Clinton, where the new emergency landing field is to be located. A beacon has recently been installed to show this and other nocturnal aviators the way. Multitudes of people, seeing this plane nightly, are learning to trust in the safety and reliability of air travel.

Cutting the Loaf in Two

(Copyright, 1932.)

In June, 1930, in the Senate, Senator Watson, of Indiana, Administration leader, said:

"I here and now predict, and I ask my fellow Senators to recall this prediction in the days to come, that if this bill is passed (the Hawley-Smoot tariff act) this nation will be on the upgrade financially, economically and commercially within 30 days, and that within a year from that time we shall have regained the peak of prosperity . . . ."

Senator Harrison this week recalled the Watson prediction. He said:

"Here we were with an export trade of FIVE BILLION DOLLARS BEFORE we enacted the Hawley-Smoot tariff law, and after that was done we decreased, until last year our exports had dropped to $2,424,000,000."

Thus did the Grundy grab help our foreign trade by CUTTING IT IN TWO and by causing retaliatory action against its unjust provisions by every foreign nation.

Senator Harrison placed the Watson prediction in the same category with other now famous G. O. P. predictions of that same year—"to put two automobiles in every garage and two chickens in every pot."

Congress must revise the tariff in the light of trade reciprocities if American industry and American labor are to benefit.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 1.—Thoughts while strolling. A sunbonnety look about Helen Hayes. I confuse Ken Murray with Ken Maynard. And Sid Solomon might pass for Michael Arlen. Wonder if anyone else closes their eyes passing those big empty skyscrapers? They're jittery.

Peggy Fears, a Dallas, Tex., girl, who made good in the city. George Olsen always looks as though he had just been to the barber and "got the works." Tiny shops comically boasting of branches—Berlin, London, Paris. What became of the gifted Simeon Strunsky? Recessional buildings in frenzied zig-zags.

Young Rollos with varnished hoops. What, no bankers in jail? Never met a girl named Gretchen. Overheard: "I still make the comic struggle to exist." Aren't we all? Roger Wolf Kahn a double for Arthur Moss. Another of my favorite people—Roxy. And his redheaded son.

Lois Long, of the New Yorker. One of the town's wittiest glossarians. Neville Fleeson has a perfect stage name. And his own. No name has the gentleness of Charles Lamb. Wish I could find someone to listen to stories about early hardships. A little blues. As though you care.

The egg-shell brittleness of Lillian Gish. A sort of white coral. A whiff of boiled mutton and cabbage makes me think of wash day back yonder. Buddy Rogers' singing voice sounds exactly like Harry Richman. One of the exuberant play-boys with a moused eye.

Alexander Woollcott's springy gait. What a Mayor Judge Seabury would make! Yet there's no man in whose hands New York is less likely to trust itself. What majesty has law any more anyway in this town? Beating several dozen to the punch: If you don't like New York why not go to Gallipolis?

So few editors are bald. Lisle Bell carries a cane hooked on his arm. Leslie Howard's beret. Willard Huntington Wright goes in for Scotties. Percy Crosby wears a fedora swooped up in front like William Gaxton. The spring lull. Anyone like to match private lives for a nickel a corner?

* * *

At vaudeville the other night I sat across the aisle from an Apollo figure who wrests a living out of the cabarets exploiting hand-on-the-hip effeminacy. About him was a studied arriere pensee. At times he would press his hands, feminine fashion, to blonde wavy hair and otherwise express the aloof languor of a beauty. On the stage a skit stressed sissiness and no one in the audience laughed so heartily as he. In Broadway's jargon, he could take it.

* * *

New York's biggest lot is designated officially on tax returns as "Lot 1, Block 1,111," consisting of 840 acres and known to the world as Central Park. It is assessed at 850 millions and if it were not exempt from taxation the city would receive $2,270,000 in yearly taxes. Without Central Park and its arcadian beauty the metropolis would lose its last lingering touch with reality.

The managing director of a Broadway picture house halted an organ rehearsal in the middle of a number, shifted his cigar and croaked: "I don't like the tempo." It was inquired solicitously if it happened to be fast or slow. "I don't say its too fast or too slow," he exploded, "I just don't like the tempo."

* * *

Down in Greenwich Village a young lady from Texas has tossed the depression for a formidable loss. Two years ago Alice Cargill lost her job as a Wall street stenographer. She opened a chili parlor on Charles street and the income has more than doubled that of the stenographic post.

* * *

An upper Broadway soda fountain names a variety of drinks after columnists. A polite note explains that my especial namesake is mostly raspberry with a jigger of apricot. We hope there's no nasty significance in the preponderance of raspberry. If there is they can just button up their apricot. (That's only a sample. No telling what if I just let myself out.)

Alone this evening, the electric lights mysteriously flickered out twice and in an aimless twirl of the radio knob I dialed a scary voice intoning: "The outside drizzle is the damp tears of lost souls. Ghouls stark the marshes . . . ." Who me? Don't be ridic. I often ask the elevator man in for a hot cup of coffee. They get powerful lonesome just riding up and down.

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

You read the papers; see terrible things happening; turn away disgusted, horrified.

"Oh, it's awful!" you say to yourself and your neighbor, "but what can I do about it? Suppose I do let myself get all worked up over it, what good would that do? I've about come to the conclusion that the sensible thing to do is not to read any of this stuff at all."

You're wrong, stranger. That isn't the sensible thing to do. That may serve your own comfort and promote your own peace of mind. BUT IT'S THE COWARDLY THING TO DO.

What can you do about the terrible things that are happening in the world today?

YOU CAN CARE.

BECAUSE THE DECENT PEOPLE HAVEN'T CARED!

They've looked, shuddered, turned away. They too have said—"What can I do about it?"

And so, while they did nothing about it, the vicious people of the world did PLENTY.

The vicious people organized, schemed, put all their energy and faith, pride and enthusiasm behind their lawless schemes. The vicious people didn't allow themselves to be squeamish; didn't duck responsibility or dodge danger and discomfort. They went ahead with their eyes opened and their guns smoking, while the nice people closed their eyes and ripped for smelling salts.

Why is America in such a mess today? Why is organized evil running the show? Why are little children being kidnaped, young people being debauched, old people being killed? Why is vice making a monkey of our courts? That is why.

Because you—and you—and you—are too nice to face facts. Even when you aren't downright heartless and cowardly, you don't believe there is anything you can do. But there is.

YOU CAN CARE. You can open your eyes and unlock your heart. You can be willing to face the truth of life AS IS. You can let yourself be shaken with a righteous rage and shame and pity. You can weep and curse and pray and talk.

AND BY DOING THESE THINGS YOU CAN HELP FORM PUBLIC OPINION.

Public opinion is the most practical and powerful instrument on earth for fighting evil. One ounce of red hot public opinion will do more to control vice than a ton of law. When people are once thoroughly aroused, all hell can't stop their fury.

WHEN THE AMERICAN PEOPLE BECOME THOROUGHLY AWARE OF WHAT IS HAPPENING, AND THOROUGHLY INFURIATED, THEY WILL PUT A STOP TO THIS ORGY OF CRIME.

And it's up to YOU, to help start that awareness and that fury, and to see that it continues.

THE MAN WHO DOES THAT TODAY IS A TRAITOR TO DECENCY—AND AS MUCH RESPONSIBLE FOR CRIME AS THE CRIMINAL HIMSELF!

(Copyright, 1932, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Isn't It So?

There is nothing which has not been bitter before being ripe.

Another thing that has lost value because of surplus production is law.

Text for Today

Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.—James, i:27.

Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

Watch Your Step!

* * *

When the moon and the emotions go to the head, and make you so dizzy that you do all sorts of foolish, frivolous, delirious things.

* * *

Not all the "jags" in the world are the speakeasy variety or the cocktail-party brand. There are dozens of other kinds. Shopping jags, romantic jags, housecleaning jags, emotional jags, poetic jags.

* * *

A jag is merely that touch of vertigo—that "heady" feeling which comes from the effervescence of enthusiasm, when the imagination gets going on all cylinders, and you begin seeing things through rainbows.

Anybody who is incapable of a spring jag is only half-alive—and had better order a wheel-chair!

* * *

Every normal woman gets a shopping jag at this season, and goes out and buys and buys and buys dozens of useless, lovely, perishable, unsuitable things—just for the delicious, dizzy, jaguous joy of BUYING things!

* * *

Every normal man finds himself lingering before a fascinating haberdashery window, sneaking inside, and coming out with a box of pastel cravats, that, in his sane and sober moments, he will blame on his wife.

* * *

Even a hardened bachelor catches himself humming a silly old tune and feeling a little sorry for himself, as he gazes after a pair of young lovers strolling obliviously past.

* * *

It is the "Spring Jag"—the intoxication of the Foolish Season! As long as the Spring moon gives you a "romantic jag," Spring skies and flowers give you a "beauty jag" and spring clothes give you a "vanity jag," the arteries of your spirit have not yet begun to harden.

* * *

Watch your step, if you are single—or you may find yourself stepping up to the altar with the most unsuitable person in the world. Watch your step, if you are married—or you may find yourself stepping into a romance or a flirtation that will make you ridiculous. And sorry.

* * *

But DON'T try to quench the "JAG" in your heart!

* * *

Just splash OVER—and thank heaven that you are not yet ossified!

Britain Continues Building

Times Are Hard, but Safety Is Precious.

BRITAIN'S LATEST GREAT AIRPLANE

You know that the British Empire has had a hard time financially of late. It had to abandon the gold basis, a severe blow to British pride and to the great Bank of England, familiarly called "The Old Lady of Threadneedle Street."

The war cost the British billions of dollars and hurt their trade. They have been driven from free trade to protection against their will.

With considerable difficulty, recently they sent to the office of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. $150,000,000, to be distributed in payment of loans made to support the pound when it was changed from gold to nothing in particular, except the credit of a great nation, which ought to be, and is, better than gold.

But with all their difficulties THE BRITISH DO NOT LOSE SIGHT OF NATIONAL SAFETY.

They know that a few bombing planes over London could cost them, in half an hour, more than a billion dollars, and if gas bombs were added to explosive bombs, the lives of half a million people.

They know that the IMPORTANT ocean is no longer the ocean of water, but the OCEAN OF THE AIR.

With the narrow English Channel separating her from the Continent, England felt safe. Napoleon planned to cross, but could not. And it was a British ship that took him from his power and grandeur to die on the little Island of St. Helena.

But ruling waves made of water is no longer important. What counts today is THE AIR WAVES.

And the wise British are determined to rule those waves in the future as they have so long ruled the water waves.

Recently she built the world's biggest commercial airplane, to carry 38 passengers at a time from London to South Africa. And now she has built this plane, with a wide spread of wing and slender body, in the effort to break the world's nonstop record.

This "Napier monoplane," carrying oil and gasoline in the wings, which are hollow, is intended to fly from London to South Africa without stopping.

If this particular plane fails, the British will build another. If that fails, they will build another.

They will not be satisfied as long as improvement is possible.

This country, that can be made perfectly safe by an adequate fleet of airplanes and submarines, safe from attack through the air, and safe from attack on the water, should study the British. We, also, are having so-called "hard times," although we have more gold than any nation in the world.

Let us hope that we shall have, some time, a government that will be as much interested in the safety of the United States as it now appears to be in the troubles of Europe, China, Japan and every country from Paris to Pekin, EXCEPT the United States.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

But it is surprising how many will refer to the one who has caused heart aches when conversing with or about the family concerned.

Stronger men than you have gone wrong and so have their sisters and their cousins.

But you don't want that fact hashed over every time your name is mentioned, in office or out of it.

That some member of the family has not lived strictly up to the standard of moral civilization or otherwise offended should not be charged against the one who is straight.

Often those who circulate scurrilous reports are merely putting up a smoke screen to cover up their mistakes and so create a situation which will make their own depredations less apparent.
